$75,000 FIRE AT MT. PROSPECT

Heroic work of 3 fire companies save Busse-bank business block

Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and Des Plaines firemen battled flames and billowing clouds of smoke in a $75,000 fire Tuesday night at Hopper's Recreation, 16 W. Busse ave., Mt. Prospect.

Cause of the blaze, which started in the basement, has not been determined. The nauseating odor of escaping refrigerant gases choked firemen, who were unable to get at the source due to intense heat and heavy smoke. The men fought the fire through windows and basement air wells, and through the rear kitchen door.

ARLINGTON Heights and Des Plaines sent equipment to help out the local department. Flood lights and smoke ejectors were brought to the scene.

Bowling alleys at the rear were damaged only by smoke. Entire first floor of the Hopper establishment fell into the basement, where the Hoppers lived. Fire broke out in several places, particularly in two closets filled with clothing.

Firemen are credited with restricting the fire to the west end of the building.

The first alarm was sent in about 7:30 p. m., when Billy Schmidt, young son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt, occupants of one of the second floor apartments, noticed smoke seeping through the living room floor boards.

About the same time smoke was noticed in Helen's Beauty Shop in the same building. Both the Schmidt apartment and the beauty shop suffered greatly from smoke damage. Other apartments and stores in the block were smoke filled.

WATER STOOD nearly three feet deep in the basement and was pumped out by the village truck after the blaze was under control. Spring supply of steel garden tools and other seasonal goods stored under Busse-Biermann Hardware store were soaked.

Ladies Auxiliary of the fire department were on the job through the long hours serving coffee and sandwiches to the weary fire fighters.

Arlington Heights men stayed on the job until midnight. After leaving the scene about 1:30 a. m. Wednesday, men of the local department put their equipment in readiness for the next call. A number of the men, including Chief Frank Biermann, Wilber Busse, Ambrose Kranz and Ed Haberkamp, worked on through the night. By 10:30 Wednesday morning plumbers had the heating plant in operation.

Gas meters were burned to a crisp. Herman Meyn had shut off the gas main before the arrival of Public Service men. Firemen entering the basement from the rear were endangered by electric wires and meters.

ONLY CASUALTY was injury to Clarence Niebuhr, who was cut by flying glass. Dr. Wolfarth was on the job to administer first aid promptly.

The building, constructed in 1927, is owned by Albert Busse, who estimates his loss between $20,000 and $30,000. The building is fully insured.

Hopper's Recreation has leased store space and the bowling alleys since 1927.

Eight hose lines were in operation during the height of the fire. Company 1, manning the village truck under direction of Fred Meeske, worked from the rear of the building, pumping water through three hose lines.

A trailer truck was caught on Main street as the men stretched hose across the highway. The driver philosophically took a nap.

MANY MEMBERS of the volunteer department did not hear the siren the first time and it had to be blown again. Each man responding to the call will receive payment in the sum of $3.00 for his night's work.

Public appreciation of the heroism of the firemen was frequently expressed.

For a time it appeared the entire block would be lost. "Only God can help us fight this fire," Chief Biermann was heard to pray fervently. The firemen themselves considered it a miracle the blaze spread no farther.

West pump in dire need of repair or replacement

Whether it is cheaper to buy a new pump or to try and salvage some of the old West side pump in Arlington Heights is the problem facing the village trustees at this time.

John Fulkman, engineer for Conser Townsend and Associates, was present at Monday night's board meeting to make recommendations necessary to repair the present pump. He said that the 330 feet of shaft and drop pipe in the well needed replacing due to corrosion during the eight years the well has been in operation. He also recommended that the well be measured for static level, and that the pump, if repaired, be dropped another 70 feet.

WHEN TOLD the cost of the recommended improvements, Alderman William Luehring questioned whether it wouldn't be just as cheap, if not cheaper to buy a new pump. Fulkman was authorized to draw up specifications of same to present at the next board meeting.

No further action could be taken at this time, except that the board approved of having the well tested for its present depth.

A representative of the property owners on N. Dryden ave., north of Euclid, was present to ask for improvement of that street, which at present is only half paved. The unpaved half is a continuous stretch of mud holes.

Alderman Harry K. Robinson, who is in charge of streets, will investigate.

All the village dads unanimously agreed that a spring clean-up program should be held in Arlington Heights. The date will be announced later.

A MOTION was passed that only the Seagrave fire truck would be permitted to leave the village in response to rural or out of town fire calls. The trustees felt there was too much of a risk taking the big truck out for these calls, leaving the village virtually unprotected.

Hugo J. Thal, village attorney, was authorized to represent the citizens of Arlington Heights at the Illinois Commerce Commission hearing, March 14, in reference to the Chicago and North Western railroad's proposed changes in fares of commuters.

Business men to get double header—good dinner, good speaker

Members of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce and interested business men will dine Monday night at the Faith church where following a good dinner they will hear J. T. Meek, executive secretary of the Retail Association of Chicago talk on matters of prime importance to business.

The Madrigal singers of the high school will lend variety to the program. Dinner reservations are approaching a hundred, says secretary Schwingals, who reports that there is an increasing interest in the Chamber of Commerce with membership also approaching a hundred.

Audition for talent to take part in spring musical in Arlington

A big spring musical show, under the direction of Daisy Bosch of Arlington Heights, with an all star cast of Des-Mount-Arl Talent Teens is being planned at this time.

The Teens, who have already made names for themselves at veteran's hospitals, children's hospitals, old folk's homes and on TV, are looking for other talent in Arlington Heights and surrounding towns to play supporting roles in the musical. Anyone talented on a musical instrument, in singing, dancing or elocution is invited to try out.

Auditions will be held this Monday night at the Arlington Heights Legion home, 122 N. Douglas ave., from 6 to 9 p. m. All members of the Des-Mount-Arl Teens are also urged to be present at this time.

The Teens have received many requests to make return engagements at the various hospitals where they have entertained. Around Easter time they will give another show for the Lutheran Old Folk's home

Expect "brown-out" orders Monday to affect all users of electricity

Unless there is a big change in the coal strike, it is expected that "brown-out" orders will be issued this week, effective Monday, Feb. 27 in order to conserve the remaining stock piles. The accompanying news release is being published by Paddock Publications in order that the small as well as the large users of power may know of the possible orders of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Suppliers of electric power will be expected to police the order, but public sentiment and indignation against firms who waste electric current are expected to bring the required results.

The previous "brown-out" became a "black-out" for theatres in May 1946 when Arlington Theatre installed a generator which provided independent power for the entire theatre. (See 1946 story in "Way Back When.")

The Illinois Commerce Commission, following conference with officials of Commonwealth Edison Company and other utilities Monday took action to be effective if the coal strike continues, to conserve fuel used by electric companies operating in the state.

The Commission, which on February 6 announced that it was prepared to take action to conserve coal stocks when and if it became necessary today notified all Illinois electric companies using coal, in whole or in part, to appear at a hearing Thursday morning, February 23.

"Preliminary investigation by the Commission," said Chairman Walter T. Fisher, indicates that if present conditions continue it will be necessary to put curtailment measures into effect next Monday, February 27, in order to assure that vital public services can be maintained.

"We anticipate that electric customers in most areas of the state will be required to reduce their use of electricity by at least 25 per cent. with each user determining his own method of complying."

The Commission cited a total of 23 companies to appear at the hearing. The citation said, in part:

"Each electric utility shall, at such hearing, present written evidence showing:

The amount and character of its fuel reserve on hand at 12:01 a. m., February 20, 1950;

The average daily rate of its fuel consumption experienced in the seven-day period ended at 12:01 a. m., February 20, 1950;

Estimated number of days which its fuel reserve on hand as aforesaid would enable it to operate at fuel consumption equal to said average daily rate;

An estimate by calendar weeks starting at 12:01 a. m., February 20, 1950, of the amount and character of additional fuel which it expects to be able to obtain during the ensuing five weeks, assuming a continuance of the present emergency;

An estimate of the average daily rate of its consumption of fuel required to enable it to furnish electricity for uses essential to public health, safety and protection of property; and

Such other matters as may be pertinent to the subject matter of this citation."

These same matters have been the subject of the informal conferences held between the Commission and representatives of the electric utility companies since the beginning of the coal shortage, according to Fisher, and today's action places the situation on a formal basis preparatory to a conservation order, if needed.

Elk Grove school to ask approval of site purchase

Elk Grove Consolidated School Dist. No. 59 has a five-teacher school but pupils attending the school have practically no playground.

As a matter of foresight the board is asking approval of the voters of the district to the purchase of property east of the school and has called a special election to be held March 11.

The ballot will contain three propositions—the selection of the site, the right to purchase and authority to issue $12,000 in bonds.

Voters will have the right to "write-in" any other site that they may desire.

The district is in an excellent financial condition as regards bonded indebtedness and it is proposed to retire the proposed $12,000 over a period of 12 years starting in 1951.

Newspaper headline four years ago still untrue

A dim-out story a 1946 files for a headline about the street widening that would be completed in 1947.

The story has been bobbing up intermittently every few months and especially during election campaigns.

"What is it—a sort of cold war?" the reporter inquired of the editor.

Clabaugh to take part in New York Junior high school meeting

R. E. Clabaugh, Superintendent of Arlington Heights grade schools, who will attend an Eastern school convention within the next few days, will take part in a special junior high meeting in New York City, February 24 and 25.

Mr. Clabaugh will participate in a panel discussion of Democratic School Administrations. The meeting will be held at New York university.

35 stores will offer special 2-day bargains

Arlington Heights will have the biggest dollar day since the war next week Friday and Saturday when thirty-five business houses will offer special bargains the two days.

The event is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and will become a semi-annual event. The next sale will be in August.

During the war scarcity days, local stores were unable to offer dollar day bargains. They are welcoming the opportunity today to offer surplus stock. Some of the stores have made special purchases for the event.

A special section of next week's paper will carry the good news to housewives of the savings that will be possible on goods purchased during the two days.

Stores are vying with each other to offer the biggest possible bargains. The buying public will reap the benefit by the competition.

Dollar Days stores will be recognized by streamers on windows.

Lutherans to redecorate sanctuary; hold services at South school hall

The redecoration of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Hts., is to get underway today, Thursday. For that reason all church services starting this Sunday will be held in the auditorium of the South school, 301 W. South st.

This will include the Sunday services February 26, March 5 and 12, as well as the mid-week Lenten services March 1, 8 and 15. The time of the services will be the same as always, 9:15 and 10:45 a. m. Sundays and 8 p. m. Wednesdays.

Sunday school sessions of both the local and the branch Sunday school will be held in the customary places at the usual hours.

In view of the change in the place of worship, the observance of Holy Communion for February 26 will be dropped while the scheduled communion service for March 5 will be postponed until March 26.

The redecoration is to be completed by Sunday, March 19, which the congregation will observe its 90th anniversary with three festive services.

Howard Voss' take over Park Ridge dairy store

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Voss, who recently sold their delicatessen business in Arlington Heights, have purchased a dairy store in Park Ridge.

The Voss' held the grand opening of the Devon Dairy Store, located at 8 Devon ave., last Saturday. It is twice the size of their Arlington shop, and also handles delicatessen products.

"Though I'm now working in Park Ridge," said Mr. Voss, "I still plan to keep Arlington as my home town."

$1,000 to clean up ruined trees; more money to replace them

The stately elm trees which have long been the pride of Arlington Heights took an awful beating in last week's storm.

Village authorities consulted a tree surgeon and found that all trees on the village parkways and in the parks, which were badly split would have to be taken down. If allowed to grow they would decay and rot, causing a hazardous situation.

It is estimated that the work of clearing and trimming damaged trees would amount to nearly $1,000. More funds will be necessary in the spring if even partial replacement of the downed trees is attempted by the village.

The expenditure has been declared an emergency and the work of cleaning up has already begun.

Carl M. Behrens Jr. of the Behrens Real Estate office has offered 150 Elm trees (free for the digging) to replace the trees damaged by the storm. He has made his offer to the village and says that any interested citizen may also avail himself of the trees. Phone Arlington ton Heights 64.

Medical depot, community calendar to keep Arlington Heights up to date

A Lending Closet, which will provide medical supplies and materials for persons in need, is being sponsored by the Arlington Heights Nurses' club.

The announcement of this service was made Monday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Community Council of Arlington Heights, and is one of two new community projects.

MRS LILLIAN Peters, Nurses' club president, explained that a depot would be established at which nurses would stock medical materials of all types—bandages, thermometers, crutches, wheel chairs, heating pads and rubber goods—where they would be made available to needy cases upon request.

Mrs. Peters said that donations of materials would be accepted from any source, and that the Nurses' club has already arranged for an impressive stock of supplies and equipment.

THE SECOND project announced was the establishment of a Community Calendar which will be maintained for the use of all organizations in the community at the office of Forrest Davis, Village Clerk. Organizations are urged to call at the clerk's office immediately to record any scheduled events of community-wide interest in the calendar book. The calendar project has been set up to serve as a central clearing point for all community affairs. The new calendar should be checked before any definite dates are set, so that unfortunate duplications can be avoided.

Paul Schwengles of the Chamber of Commerce told the Community Council that he would transfer records of scheduled events from his office to the new Community Calendar in the clerk's office, to make the calendar as complete as possible.

Type 30, jet crete, prefab homes cause village dads long session

Building seemed to take up the better part of Monday night's village board meeting in Arlington Heights, which lasted till midnight.

A report from the Searsdale Improvement Association in regard to the new "type 30" house to be erected in that subdivision by Leonard Besinger and Associates, was presented to the board. (The full report appears in the Fence Post of this issue.) It will be referred to the building commissioner and his committee.

REVISED PLANS of proposed homes to be built on various lots throughout an Arlington Heights subdivision by C. Strassheim, Inc. were presented to the board by its representative, Leonard Miller.

The building committee, which had suggested necessary changes that would have to be made to enable the plans to meet with the code.

Strassheim intends to build 31 homes, with not more than two in each block, and those will be of different exterior designs.

During the next two weeks the board will seriously consider whether a permit for a "jet crete" home to be built on Hickory and Hawthorne should be approved. Their approval is necessary as the material of which it is to be constructed varies from the materials listed as acceptable in the building code. The building committee has given their approval of the plans.

Charles P. O'Hagan, representative for the National Home Inc., was finally given the green light by the village board to erect several of the National prefab homes within the village. However, the board will have the final jurisdiction as to what location the homes will be erected.

The erection of these homes will enable G. Ls and other citizens to buy a well built home, at low cost and reasonable monthly payments. Many local citizens cannot afford to purchase a standard home at today's prices, but still need a place to live. National Home puts out homes costing between $6,500-$13,000, being within price range which most G. Ls could afford.

TRYOUTS SUNDAY FOR VILLAGE THEATRE SPRING PLAY; MEETING TONIGHT

Village Theatre Inc., will hold a meeting tonight, Thursday, at 611 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, at 8 p. m.

Tryouts for their spring play will be held this Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., at the field house in Arlington. Members, as well as interested citizens, are invited to attend both the meeting and tryouts.

Tree damage deductible from income tax says Auditor E. F. Laurin

Many of the fine trees of this area are threatened if damage by last week's storm is not corrected. Here is a bit of information received from E. F. Laurin, Arlington Heights accountant, that may influence some home owners to call for the tree surgeon, a nurseryman or landscape engineer.

Mr. Laurin says, "damage of trees in the recent storm are proper deductions for income tax purposes for 1950 tax returns. Such loss deductions should be supported by evidence of value before and after the storm and the best evidence would be an appraisal by a nurseryman or landscape engineer."

"Deductions are generally limited to the difference in value of the tree before the storm and after. The deductions of course would be inoperative if the usual 10% standard deduction basis is used."

Jewel Tea asks right to sell bottled beer

Liquor Commissioner Albert Goedke informed Arlington Heights village board Monday night that the Jewel Tea had filed an application for a license to sell bottled beer.

Goedke said that under existing ordinances which do not limit bottled goods, he thought that he had no other course than to grant the license.

Library corner

Stories of far away places hold a certain fascination for almost everyone, and many of the new books at the Arlington Heights Public Library have such a setting.
"Doorway in Antigua," by Albert E. Idell, tells of a sojourn in Guatemala. The author and his wife went there to work—and after a few months, they decided they would like to make Antigua their home. This is his warm, informal account of buying a house and living there—in which he shares his pleasure freely.
Monica Martin was twenty when she went with her young husband to work and build a home in the mica fields and jungle outposts of India. In her late book, "Out in the Mid-day Sun," she gives a fascinating picture of their day-to-day life in the India that few people see.
"Bangkok Editor," an adventure in Siam, by Alexander MacDonald, is the amusing and exciting story of an American newspaperman making good under the most difficult and fantastic conditions.
Margaret Landon, author of "Anna and the King of Siam," has written a new novel of Bangkok entitled, "Never Dies the Dream," which is the inspiring story of a woman missionary in this rich and colorful background—and also a beautiful love story.

IT'S STILL white goods time. Nothing gives a housewife a more contented, efficient and luxurious feeling about her home as the knowledge that her white goods and linen supply is complete and in ready-to-use condition. These early months of the year are the favorite months for replenishing those supplies... It's also the season for sprucing up the kitchen curtains. Get some of the attractive and inexpensive material-by-the-yard and run up some snazzy kitchen and bathroom curtains of your own design. Rickrack can be used with marvelous ingenuity and originality. So can a smidgeon of some bright gingham or floral batiste added as curtain border or appliqued like flowers... Here's tubing too, for worn out pillow cases, and a dozen other sundries that only housewives take pleasure in looking over and selecting. GIESEKE'S STORE, 105 E. Davis st.

THE SAD, SWEET cry of meadowlarks is not far off, which means Spring will be here. But Spring comes from within also, reflected from the brightness of your eyes and smile. So ... what do you do about it, ladies? Why not wrap up that Spring feeling in a tulip-gay dress? A deftly-made, April-dress? Ask to be shown the QUEEN MAKE chambray—a deftly made little cotton with diagonal-tucked front. Crisp pique collar and bow. Removable pads. Sun and flowers seem to have been woven into these delicate pastels. The EMERALD SHOP, 10 N. Dunton St.

WHEN YOU PLAN special surprise for your husband or some other member of your family, you think of a dinner party. And what do you plan your meal around? The meat course, natch. It's the part of the meal that has to be tops in quality, or your meal is ruined, and your surprise is a total flop. The cuts at KRAUSE'S are quality meats and the prices are right... Poultry, fresh and cured meats are all selected by a particular store owner for an exacting housewife... (Or should I say housemaker? That's how I think of myself, housewife I mean.)... If you are interested in a quarter of beef or any quantity of meats, KRAUSE'S have that too. And no charge for cutting. ... Please family and guests with this important part of the menu—the meat course. KRAUSE'S QUALITY MEATS, 7 E. Campbell.

HAS YOUR bedroom become "step-child" room of the house? Start with one bedroom if you haven't the energy for primping up all of them... Paint or paper the bed wall, just so you'll have a contrast. If your dressing table doesn't have a mirror, get one. It sparkles the room. So does a large mirror over the dressing table. Zut! your room wears a new face... Or let these helpful folks suggest other paper and paint tricks. PALATINE PAINT AND GLASS CO., 9 North Bothwell street.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 26, will be:

"CHRIST JESUS"
The Golden Text is:
"As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: ... for in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily" (Col. 2: 6, 9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon the following are from the Bible:

"And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed... And Joseph also went up from Galilee... To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife... And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn" (Luke 2: 1, 4-7).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Born of a woman, Jesus' advent in the flesh partook partly of Mary's earthly condition, although he was endowed with the Christ, the divine Spirit, without measure... He was appointed to speak God's word and to appear to mortals in such a form of humanity as they could understand as well as perceive. Mary's conception of him was spiritual, for only purity could reflect Truth and Love, which were plainly incarnate in the good and pure Christ Jesus. He expressed the highest type of divinity, which a fleshly form could express in that age" (pp. 30, 332).

Famous artist lectures at Arlington camera club

Arlington Heights Camera Club had a real treat at their last meeting. Mark Coomer, nationally famous artist, gave a lecture on composition and used his paintings and photographic slides to demonstrate.

Mr. Coomer is a resident of Prospect Heights, where he has lived for the past seven years. His water colors have been hung at the American Water Color Society shows in New York and in Chicago Art Institute. His work has been reproduced in the Chicago Tribune Color Section and Holiday Magazine. His one man shows have been frequently shown at Philadelphia, Chicago Galleries Assn. and Associated American Artists Galleries.

Mr. Coomer's travels have taken him over a good part of America, Mexico and Canada. His work is on display in his home and on sale there as well as at the art galleries. His Serigraph limited editions are really something to behold. They are shown in groups of four, all of the same locale. Every art lover in this section of the country should make it a point to see the works of this great artist.

The club also had a one man print show from China. The prints of the famous Chinese photographer, Francis Wu, were shown and it was the opinion of the club that this was the finest one man show ever seen by any of them. It is the policy of the club to have events such as these, and there is an open invitation to anyone wishing to attend a meeting. They are held the first and third Thursday of the month at the Community Camera Studio

FAVORITES

For FLAVOR

by MARILYN McLENNAN

A delightful old cookbook browned with age and worn with many years of use is the source of this unusual spice cake recipe—Leopard Cake.

This delicious cake is made in two separate batters, one a plain white cake batter lightly flavored with lemon... the other a dark batter spiced with cinnamon, cloves and allspice and flavored with brown sugar and molasses. Place them alternately in the tin for that "spotty" effect. Sprinkle with chopped raisins and nuts for the finishing touch and there you have it—a real treasure from grandmother's kitchen.

The old cookbook belongs to Mrs. Arthur Mally of 263 N. Fremont st., Palatine. She received it from her mother, Mrs. J. Gainer, a Palatine pioneer. This book is a collection of favorite recipes of many of the first ladies of Palatine. Mrs. Gainer contributed this recipe for Leopard cake.

"I've made this cake of mother's several times and like it very much," said Mrs. Mally as we paged through the book enjoying the varied group of old fashioned recipes.

She also gave us her favorite recipe for chocolate cake, another recipe received from her mother. "We like this cake because it is a real chocolate cake—no soda or sour milk in this one," said Mrs. Mally. It is a rich, tender 3-layered cake and falls into the "best" classification of this experienced homemaker.

Leopard Cake

Light batter:
1½ cups granulated sugar
½ cup butter
½ cup milk

2½ cups cake flour
4 egg whites
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon lemon flavoring
Dark batter:
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup molasses
½ cup butter
½ cup sweet milk
4 egg yolks
2½ cups cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon allspice
1 cup chopped raisins
1 cup chopped nuts

To make the light batter cream the butter and sugar, and add the lemon flavoring. Sift together the baking powder and flour and add to the creamed batter alternately with the milk. Beat the egg whites until they form a rounded peak and then fold into the batter.

To make the dark batter cream the butter and brown sugar. Beat the four egg yolks into the batter one at a time. Stir in the molasses. Sift the cake flour before measuring and resift with the baking powder, cinnamon, cloves and allspice. Cut the raisins into pieces and add to the chopped nuts. Dust a little of the sifted ingredients over the raisins and nut meats. Add the remainder to the batter alternately with the milk. Then fold in the raisins and nut meats.

Place the two batters alternately in an angel food cake tin and bake for one hour at 350 degrees F.

Chocolate Cake

2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup butter or shortening
3 eggs
2 sq. unsweetened chocolate
½ cup hot water
½ cup cold water
2 cups cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream the sugar and shortening. Then beat in the eggs one at a time, and add the vanilla. In a double boiler melt the chocolate in the ½ cup of hot water and add to the mixture. Sift the cake flour and resift with the salt and baking powder. Add alternately with the ½ cup of cold water. Bake in three 8 inch layer tins for 25 to 30 minutes at 350 degrees F.

Telltale Sign

If a horse stops sweating, or its muscles begin to tremble, while working in the field, it indicates approaching heat-stroke. Prompt treatment is essential in such cases.

World Day of Prayer this Friday at Methodist church

Cooperating churches for the World Day of Prayer service in Arlington Heights this Friday will hear Rev. Harold Wilke, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church of Crystal Lake, as guest speaker.

The service will be held at the First Methodist church, with the First Presbyterian and St. John churches of Arlington Heights also participating. Other guests will be Mt. Prospect South Community Baptist, and Prospect Heights Community and Bible churches.

The service begins at 2 p. m. and the general public is invited to attend.

Ice blamed for collision of cars

Mrs. Minda Newberg of Arlington Heights was driving carefully the afternoon of February 16 as she approached the intersection of Hillside and Evergreen in Mt. Prospect. She was holding a bag of eggs on her lap.

Icy pavement caused the car being driven by Mrs. Arnold Dahlstrom to collide with Mrs. Newberg's car, causing considerable damage to both cars. Mrs. Newberg was treated for bruises and shock by a local doctor. The eggs were a total loss.

February 20 a truck going east on Central rd., collided with a Waukegan car at the Main street crossing. The truck driver claimed he could not see the other car until he was in the middle of the crossing. Considerable property damage resulted, but no injuries.

Girls' club to entertain student body at high school assembly program

The Girls' club of Arlington Heights township high school will present an assembly program of diversified talent before the student body following the home room period today, Thursday.

Preceding the talent show, Mrs. Stockdale, Regent of the DAR, will present the DAR award to Patti Boyles, outstanding senior girl.

Numbers will include vocal solos by Sue Henning and Carol Faulstich, an accordion solo by Audrey Armstrong, a marimba selection by Marlene Plant, and a guitar performance by Dorothy Poc.

Monologues will be given by Ila Miller, Betsy Larson, and Patti Ryden. Special song and dance numbers will be presented by a group of sophomores, a group of juniors, and a group of seniors. Bonnie Peterson, president of the Girls' club will be master of ceremonies.

We can't forget

Your money pays telephone wages

For a 5-day week

Top-rate Arlington Heights Telephone Operators (who handle your calls) earn an average of . . . $51.87

Average of all Arlington Heights Telephone Operators is . . . $45.00

Compare it—for steady work

Actual studies in local communities show your telephone operator's wages are in line with those paid by other local companies to people of similar skills and experience.

Now, her CWA-CIO union demands more.

In considering these demands, we can't forget that your money pays telephone wages.

"The Telephone Company is a good place to work"

You've heard that often. Here's why:

The operator gets regular raises from the beginning until she reaches the top scale. Three out of four operators will get such raises this year—without asking for them, without striking for them.

She enjoys steady work.

She gets seven paid holidays a year.

She is entitled to paid vacations of two weeks with her second year of service. (Three weeks with her 15th year.)

She is protected by a liberal sickness and death benefit plan, without a penny's cost to her.

Operators and all telephone people are covered by a retirement plan which includes a $100 a month minimum pension including Social Security.

Telephone wages are ahead of living costs

Illinois Bell operators have had nine general wage increases since 1940, including three since the war. These were in addition to the regular "progression" raises. Their earnings have increased 139%, while living costs are up only 74%.

This is one big reason why we had to increase telephone rates in 1949.

In our bargaining to determine whether we should agree to any further wage increases, we are mindful that it's your money that pays the bill.

NEW NEIGHBORS IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sullivan
629 S. Highland

The City of Good Neighbors greeted the John D. Sullivan family November 14, 1949. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan and their two daughters moved to their hand-some 6 room residence from their home town, Harvard, Illinois. The Sullivans spent their childhood as next door neighbors in Harvard.

They decided to move closer to Chicago because of the long hours spent by Mr. Sullivan commuting to the loop where he is an accountant for the Borg, Warner corporation.

After considering several northwest suburbs, a unanimous decision was made to live in Arlington Heights. "The neat and well kept streets, the attractive layout of homes, and the abundance of good stores made a fine impression on us," stated Mrs. Sullivan. "The beautiful and numerous trees were another appealing feature," she continued.

Their sparkling new home is constructed of brick and wood, and has plenty of room inside as well as lawn and play area outside for the children.

Gail, 2½, and Nancy, 7 months, are the Sullivan's pride and joy. Gail is an active little run-around and loves to play with anything or anybody. She will be happy when spring comes and she can get outside and play with her new neighbors.

Hobbies? "We're going to develop a hobby this summer," smiled this new neighbor. "We'll be busy planting bushes, cultivating a lawn and perhaps a garden," she said. Mr. Sullivan attends night school at De Paul Law school.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard M. Meyer
1001 N. Dunton

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Meyer, formerly of Chicago, came to Arlington Heights four or five years ago and bought a lot on which their new home now stands. Their interest in this town grew through their friendship with Mr. and Mrs. Kuhlman of 716 N. Beverly Lane. Building began last year and they moved into their attractive red brick home November 26.

The Meyers are particularly pleased with their proximity to St. James school and church. "I like everything about this town," said Mrs. Meyer. "We certainly have fine neighbors," she continued. "They brought us hot coffee the day we moved in."

The Meyers have twin boys, Richard and Willard, who are 8½ years old and in third grade at St. James school. Their little sister, Jeanne, will be three in April. Jeanne, although small, holds her own with her twin brothers. "They have a lot of fun and fights," replied their mother.

Mrs. Meyer is a sewing enthusiast and especially likes to make things for the house such as draperies and slip covers. Being a busy mother of three "Indians" keeps her time well occupied. Mr. Meyer hasn't any particular hobby right now, but plans to be very busy this spring and summer leveling the land around the house and planting a lawn and shrubberies. He is a photographic printer for Kling Studios in Chicago.

Charles E. Aldrich takes bride in Tulsa

Miss Mary Frances Bodkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bodkin of Tulsa, Okla., became the bride of Charles Edward Aldrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Aldrich of Arlington Heights, January 24 in Tulsa.

The bride is a student at Tulsa university and is a member of Phi Mu sorority. Charles attended Arlington Heights high school and was active in youth activities. He is a sophomore at Tulsa university and is a member of the Masonic lodge.

A reception was given for the young couple by Phi Mu sorority February 21. The newlyweds have an apartment in Tulsa and will continue their work at the University.

Arlington Candy Shop has new owner; to again feature homemade candy

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Breda, proprietors for the past year of the Arlington Candy Shop, sold their business this week to Homer O. Piper of Park Ridge.

Mr. Piper operates a chocolate shop in Park Ridge, and though he plans to continue the lunch counter at the Arlington store, he will also feature his famous homemade candies here. He has had his Park Ridge shop for over five years.

A grand opening of his Arlington store will be held in the near future.

Dr. Carl holds Nurse's club spellbound with talk on Lincoln

The ability of Dr. George Truman Carl, pastor of the Methodist church of Park Ridge, to hold the undivided attention of an audience, was ably demonstrated when he talked before a group of 35 members of the Arlington Heights Nurse's club at the home of Mrs. Norbert Leckband last Friday.

Dr. Carl offered a choice of phases in the life of Lincoln, and with the spell of St. Valentine's day still in the air, the "Love Life of Lincoln" was unanimously agreed upon.

Dr. Carl's wealth of knowledge of the subject springs from his intense interest in Lincolniana. He has read every letter available that was written to or by Abraham Lincoln. From this he drew the picture of a man humbly great through his entire life, but who recognized the love of a woman to be indispensable to his complete happiness.

Lincoln's interest in that phase of life was demonstrated very early, but the great loves of his life were Ann Rutledge, whose early death interrupted a devoted love, his love and appreciation of his step-mother, Sara Bushnell Johnston, and last, but not least, Mary Todd, his wife and mother of his children, to whom on his wedding day he vowed eternal love.

Mary Todd Lincoln, a southern woman of brilliant mind and excellent education, bore an unmistakable influence on him, for students of Lincoln easily find this discernible in those writings of which we are most familiar. Dr. Carl has had the unique experience of personal interviews with the past five presidents, so at the conclusion of his talk about Abraham Lincoln, he obligingly conceded to an extremely interesting informal review of the personalities of Herbert Hoover, Calvin Coolidge, Franklin Roosevelt, and our president, Mr. Truman. The business meeting of the evening was short, but the most important topic was the plan for a "Lending Closet" which will be a non-profit service to the community where temporary needs of the sick room may be secured. Further information regarding this will be available soon.

VFW Auxiliary card party is big success

The card party sponsored by the Arlington Heights VFW Auxiliary February 16 at the field house was a big success. Refreshments were served after the card games were completed.

The Auxiliary wishes to thank all those who attended the party and to thank the merchants for their generous contributions.

Register next week

Village clerk Forrest Davis announces that Arlington Heights residents who have not registered for voting may do so March 1, 2 or 3 at the village office. The books will be closed March 4 and will not be re-opened until May 1.

The village office will also be open Friday evening, from 7 to 9 p.m. for the convenience of Arlington Heights residents who cannot call during the regular office hours.

Any voters who have registered previously, and have not moved to another address do not have to register again. This registration period is only for those who are not properly registered at their present address. Ladies who have married must register under their new name, since they are not permitted to vote under their maiden name.

Set date for carnival

March 10 has been set as the date for the annual carnival at Arlington Heights township high school. Wallace Grace, athletic director, and Frederick Schmoeyer, band director, will be the faculty sponsors for the affair.

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors will elect their queen candidates February 27. Each class will then support its own candidate to elect her Queen of the Carnival. The Carnival Queen will receive her crown from the hands of an important personage in the sporting world on the evening of the carnival.

This year's carnival is planned to be larger than that of last year. Invitations are being extended to the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Brownies to enter booths.

WHAT IS A CUSTOMER?

CAB RIDERS, PLEASE NOTE

- A Customer is the most important person, whether it's in person or by mail, or on the telephone.
- A Customer is not dependent on us, we are dependent on him.
- A Customer is not an interruption of our work — he is the purpose of it. We are not doing him a favor by serving him — he is doing us a favor by giving us the opportunity to do so.
- A Customer is not an outsider to our business — he is part of it.
- A Customer is not a cold statistic — he is a flesh-and-blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own, and with biases and prejudices.
- A Customer is not someone to argue or match wits with. Nobody ever WON an argument with a customer.
- A Customer is a person who brings us his wants. It is our job to handle them profitably to him and to ourselves.

New Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Weber and children, Carol Lynn, 7, and "Ricky," 3, are the occupants of the new, gray brick, Georgian-type Lindstrom home at 1001 N. Princeton ave. They have been New Neighbors since the middle of December, and are very much in love with their new home and surroundings. They too, like every newcomer, are enthusiastic over the friendliness of the community, and appreciate the informal parties and open house gatherings held so that they might meet their neighbors.

Carol Lynn is in the first grade. Her hobby is painting. "Ricky" is all boy and enjoys his cars and trucks.

Mr. Weber is an attorney for Brunswick - Balke - Collander in Chicago.

Mrs. Weber is a member of the Nurse's club. In her spare moments she likes to sew and paint.

When asked if the family had any special reason for choosing Arlington Heights for their future home, they replied that they liked the wide open spaces which was so different from Chicago.

Parties

Mrs. Joseph Morici Sr. entertained a group of 18 women at a combination Valentine party and surprise stork shower last Wednesday evening in her new home in honor of Mr. Helen Walters of Barrington. Most of the women are employees of the Jewel Tea store in Barrington. Other guests from Arlington Heights were Mrs. Myrtle Blom, wife of the manager at Barrington, Mrs. Max Rhodes, daughter and Mrs. Joseph Morici Jr.

Games were played and later the gifts were opened by the honored guest. Tasty sandwiches and cakes were served.

Seven year old David Mears, son of the Edmund Mears, was host at an impromptu Valentine party last Tuesday afternoon. His guests were Candace Malone and Wayne and Ronnie Thompson.

Mrs. John Morrison and family entertained at a turkey dinner Sunday in honor of her mother, Mrs. Minnie Bierman, of Yale ave., who celebrated her 80th birthday on Valentine's day. Others present were the Morrissons' son, Jack, his wife and three children, Virginia Carol, Johnny and Ritchie; also Mrs. Morrison's brother, Al Bierman. Their daughter, Mrs. Grayce Cagle and family missed out on the celebration, as they recently moved to California.

Johnny Mike Buckman, son of the Harry F. Buckmans, was 4 years old Monday. He had six little friends in to help him celebrate the event. They were Kathy Swinbank, Suzanne Sarvana, Jackie and Jimmie Sider, Allan Hubbard and Jerry Sackter. Games were played, balloons passed out, and refreshments of ice cream, cake and cookies were served. Of course, the mothers had fun too. They were invited to come with their children, and so enjoyed visiting together and partaking of the refreshments.

Last Wednesday afternoon after school "Buzzy" Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Williams, had a group of 7 children in to help him celebrate his birthday. It was his sixth. Those present were Dolores Dornan, Sally Geddes, Carolyn Bradford, Debbie Holloway, Jackie Sieder, Dennis Murphy and David Havard. They had a busy time playing various games, watching television and partaking of the refreshments.

Visited

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sarvana and daughter, Suzanne, spent Sunday in Milwaukee with Mr. and Mrs. Al Beauchamp and daughter, Judy, also Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whipburn and daughter, Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Heidorn attended the pre-showing of the automobile show last Friday evening at the International Amphitheatre. It was extremely interesting, and the various colors of the cars caught Mrs. Heidorn's eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin T. Allison were in Streator, Ill., over the week end attending the funeral of Paul Soderstrom, step-father of Mr. Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Malone and family were dinner guests of the H. D. Douthits of Chicago Sunday.

Cards

Mrs. Dorothy Bastedo entertained the Newcomer's Bridge club last Thursday. A dessert luncheon was served at 1 o'clock after which bridge was played. The guests were Mrs. Barbara Everett, Mrs. Louise Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Goodrich, Mrs. Charlotte Shaughnessy, Mrs. Clarisse Wangness, Mrs. Julia Hull and Mrs. Helen Anderson.

The Victor Beislars entertained their Pinochle club Saturday night. Those present were the Ed Munsons, who made high score, the Mark Crevistons and the M. S. Malones.

Mrs. David Coffman was hostess to her bridge foursome Friday afternoon.

Guests

Mrs. E. J. Lewinski and family entertained her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bostetter from Kenosha, Wis., over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steiber of Rogers Park were dinner guests of the Richard Olstas Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Anderson and family had Mr. and Mrs. Northwest Heighters (Cont) Bill Sutter of Cleveland, O., as guests Saturday evening.

Mrs. Alex Streigman, wife of Dr. Alex J. Streigman of Cincinnati, is a house guest of the Bernard J. Colvins.

Convalescing

Hugo Eiler, while still in Wesley Memorial hospital, is reported to be doing fine, and expects to be home in about a week. He is most appreciative of the many cards and visits from his friends.

Miss Bonnie Colvin is recuperating after her recent operation, and is home and able to be up and about again.

Business trip

James Wood returned from a business trip to Texas last week.

National Home Builder's Week
Mrs. Roger Ryden will be spending a few days in Chicago this week attending the National Home Builders' Convention with her husband.

New business location

Charles Utt, recent graduate of Purdue and son-in-law of the J. A. Johnsons, left Monday of this week for Dayton, O., where he will be employed by General Motors. He will begin to look for a place to live immediately so he may send for his wife as soon as possible. In the meantime she will remain with her parents.

Vacationer

The William L. Johnsons received a card recently from E. E. Silk from Phoenix, Ariz., stating they were having temperatures ranging from 74 to 85 degrees. He has been down there since the Christmas holidays, and his sister from Davenport, Ia., is also in Phoenix. Around the middle of the month they plan to leave and make a tour through the Grand Canyon up to Colorado Springs and Denver, arriving home around the latter part of March.

Modeling

Miss Patti Ryden, teen age daughter of the Roger Rydens, is modeling in the Spring Fashion show at Fields. This spring showing will continue for the next three Saturdays. She is also on the High School Fashion Board at Fields.

Expected relatives

Mr. and Mrs. R. Thornton McClaughry, recent new neighbors, expect Mrs. McClaughry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stautz of Lake Geneva, Wis., this Thursday. They will stay over night and continue on to Bloomington, Ill.

Birthday

Little Carol Ann Mears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Mears was one year old Monday.

Lake of Fire

Lake Waccamaw, a placid resort in southeastern North Carolina, is believed to be of fire origin. Recent dredging operations have turned up charred tree trunks, leading many to believe the saucer-shaped lake was created when a huge fire, five miles by seven, burned out the peaty ground.

Pediatrician to speak at Child Study meeting

The Child Study Group of Arlington Heights will meet next week Thursday, at 8 p.m., at the South school. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Morley McNeal, well known Highland Park pediatrician, who will speak under the auspices of the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society.

Dr. McNeal will speak on the subject "Is the Tummy Ache a Fake?" Children often complain of being sick when they are trying to avoid an unpleasant situation. How can a parent know whether or not it's pretense? Dr. McNeal will try to give answers to the many queries on this subject. (F)

Weddings Births

Engaged to be wed

Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Schroeder of Palatine announce the engagement of their daughter, Lilah Mae, to Robert R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Smith of Palatine. The wedding will take place this summer.

Miss Schroeder is a stenographer for C. & N. W. railway, and her fiancé attends Bradley university in Peoria.

St. Peter Couples' Club sponsors pancake supper

A pancake supper will be held at St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights, February 24, from 5 to 7 p. m. The event is being sponsored by St. Peter Couple's club.

There will be a special table for business men so that they can be served immediately and can leave early.

Christened Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nebel of 216 Williams, Arlington Heights, had their son, Jack Scott, christened during the morning service Sunday at St. Peter Lutheran church. The baby's sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Fisher of Oak Lawn, Ill., Mrs. Ralph Nebel of Arlington Heights, and Roy Cole of Mt. Prospect.

A dinner for 16 guests was held at the Nebel's home in honor of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nebel of Arlington Heights, paternal grandparents of the baby were present. The maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buckmeier of Argo, Ill., were unable to attend because of illness.

Jack's sister, Dawnen, 3 1/2, was thrilled by the whole day.

Judith Ann Maierhofer
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Maierhofer of 1104 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights, had their daughter, Judith Ann, baptized Sunday at 4 o'clock, at St. Peter Lutheran church. Rev. L. V. Stephan officiated.

The sponsors were Mrs. Emma Garmis and Mrs. Paul Malchow and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knabe. A dinner was served at the Maierhofer's home following the christening for the sponsors and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Meyer of Arlington Heights.

Engagement announced

Mrs. Martha Hassig of 6 S. Elm st., Mt. Prospect, announces the engagement of her daughter, Carolyn Freitag, to Richard Baum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Baum of Chicago.

Sucking Calves
Prolonged sucking by calves may cause cows to become hard milkers.

Francis Hinsberger takes Helen O'Brien as bride

Francis Hinsberger, son of Mrs. Andrew Hinsberger of Arlington Heights, took as his bride Miss Helen O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl O'Brien of Chicago, February 18 at St. Gertrude's church.

Father O'Gare officiated at the 9 o'clock ceremony, and Stanley Anstett was the organist. The church was decorated with white roses and gladioli.

The bride wore a tailored blue traveling suit with a white hat.

Loretta Karnatz becomes bride of Wallace Poehls

In a double ring ceremony February 18 in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Chicago, Miss Loretta Karnatz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Karnatz of Skokie, became the bride of Wallace Poehls, son of Hans Poehls of Golf rd., Des Plaines.

Blanke officiated at the 4 o'clock wedding.

Palms and baskets of gladioli decorated the church altar, and white satin ribbons were tied on the pews. Mrs. Schumacher sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mr. Becker of Chicago at the organ.

The bride wore a princess style satin gown with a broad lace bodice trimmed with seed pearls, long sleeves, drop shoulder and long train. Her fingertip tulle veil was held in place with a tiara of tulle and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with hyacinth blossoms and tucks of white tulle, and her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

The maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Ruesch, wore a taffeta gown of peacock blue fashioned with a bustle back, drop shoulder, short sleeves and full skirt. She wore matching fingerless mitts and carried a cascade of American Beauty roses and had a tiara of roses in her hair. The bridesmaids, Miss LaVerne Karnatz, Mrs. Shirley Koch and Miss Gwenn Broch, were gowned in American Beauty taffeta gowns styled the same as the maid of honor's. They also had matching mitts and carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and had carnation tiaras in their hair. The bride's gift to her attendants was rhinestone necklaces, bracelets and earrings.

Richard Gewecke attended the groom as best man, and Walter Karnatz Jr., Kenneth Poehls and Ralph Jaacks ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Karnatz chose a street length dress of navy blue accented by an orchid corsage.

Six dressed and fifty guests attended the wedding reception.

Couples enjoy square dances, skits, at Women's association's Men's night

Highlight of the annual men's night social of the Women's association of the Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights, held Wednesday night, was the appearance of Dr. Harry Edgren, professor of recreation of George Williams college in Chicago.

Dr. Edgren, who served on a national basis as director of entertainment of the USO during the war, led the couples in square dancing and folk dancing, and had them partake in several impromptu skits. Walter Daube sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," in keeping with the Valentine Day spirit, around which the evening was planned. Mrs. Richard Lull accompanied Mr. Daube, and throughout the evening provided music for the dancing.

Following the program, under Dr. Edgren's direction, further enjoyment was derived from the auction of appropriately decorated boxes containing light refreshments. Auctioneers Richard Black and Victor Biesler handled the spirited bidding for the boxes, and Mrs. Walter Daube's group, Circle No. 2 of the association, served coffee.

The evening was planned by a committee of Mrs. M. L. Kurtz, Mrs. Walter Daube and Mrs. Andrew Sim, appointed by program chairman, Mrs. Richard Frazier.

Holy Name Society to sponsor card party Mar. 17

A card party will be given on St. Patrick's day, March 17, by the Holy Name Society of St. James Catholic church at the Arlington Heights high school cafeteria for the benefit of the new church. There will be special attractions and refreshments will be served. Donations one dollar. Tickets are obtainable from members or at the rectory.

Card party a success

Icy roads and swirling snow may have kept some of the folks of Arlington Crest away from the card party sponsored by the Arlington Crest Civic Association last Saturday, but more than 50 persons attended and enjoyed a pleasant evening.

The appetizing Smorwarsbord, prepared by the ladies of the committee was a gourmet's delight. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. J. V. Moler, Mrs. G. Ostenson, Mrs. K. W. Goodpasture and Mrs. R. H. Nordstrom.

Mark Coomer to lecture at Woman's club meeting

Mark Coomer, lecturer and exhibitor in the field of art will appear at the Arlington Heights Woman's club March 1 meeting at the field house at 1:30 p. m. He will have some of his work on exhibit at the meeting and will lecture on "As an Artist sees the Americas."

Mr. Coomer is a true American artist, born in Bay City, Mich. His paintings and serigraphs have found wide acceptance in the United States and abroad. His water colors have been shown at the American Water Color Society exhibits in New York City and the Art Institute in Chicago. Mr. Coomer's work has been reproduced in color in feature articles by the Chicago Tribune and Holiday magazine. He has had one man shows at Woodmere Galleries in Philadelphia and Chicago Galleries association in Chicago.

Mr. Coomer is believed to be the only Chicago artist who has made use of the serigraph technique of picture creating, a variation of the silk screen process. This talented young man is from our own community as he now lives in Prospect Heights in a Cape Cod cottage. His artistic touch is seen and felt throughout his home.

Hostesses for the tea hour will be Mrs. Bruce C. Silcher and Mrs. William E. Sauer. Literature and Drama Study Group

Rev. Mr. Klepper, pastor of the interdenominational Prospect Heights Community church will speak on "Brotherhood in Literature and Drama" at the next meeting of the Literature and Drama study group, February 27, at 1:30 p. m., at 315 Park Place, Arlington Heights.

Mr. Klepper studied at the Union Seminary in New York and did graduate work at Princeton. He attended institutes for religious and social studies in Chicago. Those who have heard the discussions which he conducted on books by Albert Schweitzer, Reinhold Niebuhr and C. S. Lewis will be interested in the topic which will be presented at this meeting.

The creative writing contest rules are still available, and Mrs. E. J. Harris, chairman of the Literature and Drama Study group, should be contacted for them. Several people are entering the contest and more are invited to do so. The deadline is March 1.

Mrs. Milton Haase will be

Golden wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Dick H. Smith will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary February 23 at an open house for their friends at their home at 9 E. Campbell st., Apt. 11, Arlington Heights, from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were wed in Rossville, Ill., February 23, 1900. They spent the early years of their marriage in that community, and moved to Arlington Heights in 1927. They have lived here ever since. The Smiths have a daughter, Mrs. Garnette Green of Palatine, and a grandson, Bill Green of Fox Lake, Ill., formerly of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Smith will be the third consecutive generation of her family to celebrate a golden wedding anniversary.

CIRCLING THE TOWN
BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Not to be outdone by those energetic ladies, the founders of the thriving Newcomers club, the men newcomers have formed their own group, an outgrowth of the original club. Headed by Edward Corcoran, the group has many ideas for the future.

Generally they hold two "men only" meetings a month — the second and fourth Mondays — at the Legion hall. These meetings are strictly informal and the men play cards or ping pong or just get better acquainted.

Once every month, though, they join with the women in a joint party—like this Thursday's potluck supper at the field house—and have a big get-together.

For the future Ed Corcoran and his committee have many things in mind. They hope to have a golf league this spring and summer, bowling teams and fishing trips for the men who are interested. In short, they plan to have a program to please just about every one, from the out-door man to the one who just likes to sit around and talk.

Any newcomers to Arlington Heights are eligible to join the Newcomers club, either the women's organization or the men's. In practice, of course, it works out that most of the men in the men's group are husbands of women in the regular club (because so popular is the Newcomers club that a goodly percentage of new residents are already members and new arrivals are joining up all the time.)

A quilting they will go
Every Tuesday is quilting bee day for the energetic members of the Arlington Heights Nurses club. They meet for an all-day session at a member's home and do an expert job. The work is done on order for people who have made the quilt itself and want to have the actual quilting done for them (by the way, the Nurses club will do quilting jobs for villagers who request it, and their fee is reasonable.)

Of course, quilting lends itself to conversation and the women have a good time talking as well as working. They each bring "something" for lunch and then at noon take an hour out for potluck. The luncheon dishes often surprise the members, but they always delight them. The conversation, according to the president, Mrs. Albert C. Peters, turns to many topics—from raising children and raising flowers to raising taxes.

Quilting is one means whereby the Nurses club raises money for its many philanthropic projects in the village, and they feel that quilting is a service they can render. Thus they ask the support of the village as a whole for

Mrs. Oscar Sander honored at pink and blue shower

Mrs. Oscar Sander was delightfully surprised by a pink and blue shower given for her by Mrs. Fred Collet of Mt. Prospect. Mrs. Sander thought she was going to a luncheon Tuesday given by Mrs. Collet for the Friday cooking group of St. Peter Lutheran school, of which she is a member. However, she was pleasantly surprised when the door opened to a room full of relatives and friends.

After the lovely pink, yellow and blue gifts were opened, a delicious luncheon was served. Among the guests present were Mrs. Bertha Tarbeck, Mrs. Olive Hasselman, Mrs. Grace Collet, Mrs. Theresa Wulff of Des Plaines, Mrs. E. Sippey, Mrs. Mildred List, Mrs. Martha Miller of Prospect Heights, Mrs. Lucille Miller of Ontarioville, Mrs. Esther Boese, Mrs. Myrtle Dritein, Mrs. Busse and Mrs. Edna Burns of Arlington Heights.

Marion Bacon is bride in New York

Mrs. John Bennett Robertson (formerly Mrs. Vaughn C. Bacon of Mt. Prospect) announces the marriage of her daughter, Marion Iva Bacon, to Douglas L. Burdewik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burdewik of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. The wedding took place at 3 p. m. February 18, in Hendrick's Chapel, Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York.

The bride-elect was a former resident of Mt. Prospect and attended Arlington Heights high school and Beloit college. She is a graduate of Syracuse university and has her degree from the School of Nursing. She was employed at Syracuse Memorial hospital as head of the eye department until her marriage.

Mr. Burdewik is a graduate of Syracuse university in the College of Business Administration and served in the infantry of the U. S. Army in Europe. He will be employed by the All-State Insurance Co. in New York City.

The couple plan a wedding trip south and will reside at 285 Rich ave., Mt. Vernon, N. Y. on their return.

IT TOOK 58 YEARS TO WRITE THIS STORY

• This is a story of achievement and service... and 1949 is the greatest chapter in the unfolding history of The Great-West Life.

Fifty-eight years of exceptional growth and progress are reflected in the Annual Statement for 1949. The Company now provides protection totalling $1,500,000,000 for 425,000 policyholders in the United States and Canada. The carefully invested assets, held to meet policyholder obligations, have grown to $357,000,000.

During 1949, $50 millions were paid or credited to living policyholders and beneficiaries. The Great-West Life agency organization, in the same period, arranged 50,000 new policies amounting to $228 millions. The story, in full, is told in the fifty-eighth Annual Statement, now available on request.

The two thousand men and women of The Great-West Life take pride in this record of faithful stewardship and expanding service.

Hughes to speak on Lincoln at Kiwanis club meeting

C. A. Hughes, Farm Advisor at the Cook County Farm Bureau, will speak at the Kiwanis Club of Arlington Heights on "Lincoln's Views on Religion" tonight (Thursday).

Mr. Hughes is well noted as an authority on Abraham Lincoln, the great American scholar and statesman and 16th president of the United States. He has talked to many clubs and groups on Lincoln.

At last week's meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Arlington Heights, Dr. J. P. Kearns, representative of the Illinois State Medical Society, physician and surgeon and faculty member of Northwestern University, spoke on "Socialized Medicine." In his talk Dr. Kearns pointed out how the program of Compulsory Health Insurance has absolutely failed in each and every country sponsoring it. He also pointed out the tremendous expense involved to the country and each individual as a taxpayer.

It was also at that meeting that two new members were formally installed, Walter Aronson, owner-manager of the Cake Box, and Dr. John Carstens, physician.

The Kiwanis Club meets every Thursday at 6:15 p. m., at Simons Restaurant, Rand and Euclid rds.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors at 314 N. Vail ave. at 9 p. m. March 1. All members are invited to attend.

Storm damage to trees estimated at a million

Much of the storm damage that trees in Arlington Heights and Palatine suffered could have been averted, says Hamer Hargrave, who has been doing some repair work on Arlington trees since the storm.

"The recent sleet storm has been the cause of much inconvenience, and in some cases actual misery, due to the breakdown of phone and electric wires."

However, another aftermath of the storm which is very shocking is the damage, and in some cases, the complete destruction of valuable trees. Trees that have required from many years to more than a century to attain their present size. Fortunately, some of the damaged specimens can be restored and saved. Others will have to be removed completely as they are hazardous in their damaged and broken condition.

According to a survey of storm areas made by J. Hamer Hargrave, tree expert, Barrington, in the trees had been braced and cabled, there was no splitting or serious damage. He states further that a million dollars worth of trees could have been saved by the installation of a few feet of steel rod and galvanized cable in each tree to prevent the main crotches from splitting.

Trees that have been injured should have the broken branches removed, the jagged stubs cut back smoothly and covered with a dressing. In the cases where a large wound has occurred, the area should be cut smooth with a chisel and a waterproofing applied, to prevent decay setting in.

Most of the suburban towns have done very little bracing of their street trees as a preventative against ice and wind storms in the past. Just like people after incurring an accident, become intensely interested in insurance, our civic minded citizens are going to become very tree conscious and will be thinking of preventative measures to insure against the loss of their beautiful shade trees during a future storm.

Mr. Hargrave has been given authority by Arlington village board to perform tree surgery on trees in parkways and the parks.

Parent-Teachers Sunday at Bible church February 26

Parents and friends of the Prospect Heights Bible church Sunday school pupils will be special guests at the Third Annual "Open house" next Sunday, Feb. 26, at the church.

E. C. Green, general superintendent, states that "open house" is a time when parents will attend Sunday school class sessions with their children, in order to view first hand the modern teaching methods employed at the local school, pupil's workbooks and handicraft, and the latest visual-audio aids used in teaching Bible stories and truth.

Worship services in the church school begin at 9:45 with a special program being prepared by teachers and officers. Special music and object lessons will be featured.

Pastor of the Bible church, Rev. Ralph Burns, extends a cordial invitation to all parents and friends to attend this parent-teachers Sunday. (AM)

Cub Scouts hold Blue and Gold banquet

The annual Blue and Gold (Father and Son) Cub Scout banquet was held Tuesday evening at the gymnasium of the Arlington Heights Methodist church.

The gym, transformed into a huge dining room, was filled to capacity. Table decorations were provided by the dens and two blue and gold candles were lighted representing each den.

Practically every cub and his dad was there. The big brass band from Park Ridge and the N. W. council was there, too. After an excellent dinner, Dick Grigsby, the magician, opened up his bag of oriental tricks, which made a big hit with the audience. There was group singing, and dens five and six put on an induction ceremony, inducting 25 new boys.

Many awards were presented to the Cubs for their achievements. All current and future den dads and parents of Cubs were asked to attend the Cub training program at the North school auditorium February 24 at 8 p. m.

The banquet closed with an appropriate film—a western.

11,000 Homes For Just 75c

The seventh grade at South school, Arlington Heights, is studying industries. Each pupil has selected a particular industry and is studying it in relation to its history, growth, use and importance in our American standard of living.

Railroads, glass, iron and steel, meat packing, lumbering, coal, and radio and television are a few coming under scrutiny. Letters were written to various companies and corporations soliciting information. The response was gratifying. In addition to this material, the usual classroom resources are utilized. At the conclusion of the unit, each pupil will discuss his work with the class, presenting his findings with the aid of maps, charts, and graphs, which he has prepared.

The eighth grade of the South school is studying transportation and communication. The class has been divided into committees. Each committee has planned its own project for the unit.

MANY OF THE groups have written letters to companies connected in some manner with transportation and communication. The answers that have been received have been made into booklets, material discussed and generally made a part of the group work. One outstanding result of the letter writing was received by Violet Jefferey, chairman of a group of the following students: Barbara Ryan, Virginia Cowen, Joyce Peters and Pat Callahan. In response to their letter written to the British Overseas Airways Corporation, arrangements were made by this group to have a representative of B. O. A. C. come from Chicago to speak to the eighth grades of the North and South schools.

Mr. Lythgoe, the B. O. A. C. representative, spoke to these groups on the function of his company in the world of transportation. The students enjoyed Mr. Lythgoe and were surprised when he said, "In 1952, you will be able to travel from New York to London in 5½ hours." Mr. Lythgoe explained that this will be possible because of the experimentation now going on in England.

The eighth grade is going to continue for several weeks their work on the meaning of Air Age in a complex society.

Mrs. John Weber wins prize for guessing date of arrival

Mrs. John D. Weber of 218 S. Elmhurst rd., Mt. Prospect, was fortunate this month in receiving a prize from the DyDee Wash Co. for guessing the exact date the stork would arrive.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Weber are the proud parents of a baby boy, Craig Donald, born February 12 at Ravenswood hospital in Chicago. Craig tipped the scales at 7 lbs. 13 oz.

His paternal grandmother is Mrs. Lillian Weber of Arlington Heights. His maternal grandmother is Mrs. John Blomquist of Chicago.

Oil Production

Next to the United States in oil production is Venezuela, where 1.4 million barrels a day are produced, and the Middle East, which produces 1.2 million a day. In western Canada, a great oil development has started which already is producing enough oil for the consumption demands of the three Western Canada provinces.

LIBERTYVILLE AND PALATINE AT ARLINGTON THIS WEEK

Arlington vs. Woodstock, Palatine vs. Crystal Lake, Bisons to meet Hinsdale in regionals next week

Arlington Heights, Palatine and Bensenville cage squads conclude competition next week when they enter regional play at Elgin and Glenbard high schools. The Cardinals meet Woodstock Tuesday night, while the Pirates come up against Crystal Lake Wednesday evening.

The Bisons meet Hinsdale Tuesday night for "what will probably be their sole effort in the tourney."

Admission to the Elgin tourney Tuesday and Wednesday nights, with each game a separate session, is 60 cents, while tickets to the semifinals games and the final contest will be $1. Doors will open at 6 p. m. for the 6:45 games, and at 8 p. m. for the 8:30 contests. Night of the finals the doors will open at 7 p. m., game time 8 o'clock.

NEITHER PALATINE nor Arlington are rated much of a chance at Elgin, with the Heights five rating a slightly better break. Coach Gene Bell's boys might beat Woodstock, then meet Elgin Thursday night of next week, March 2.

For Palatine it will be mostly a short bus trip. Crystal Lake Tigers will surprise everyone if they don't take the Pirates, and are even favored to trim Dundee Thursday night.

Tickets for the Palatine and Arlington Heights games can be acquired at the respective high schools up to Monday at Arlington and Tuesday at Palatine.

February 28
No. 1—6:45 p. m., Elgin vs. McHenry.
No. 2—8:30 p. m., Arlington vs. Woodstock.

March 1
No. 3—6:45 p. m., Crystal Lake vs. Palatine.
No. 4—8:30 p. m., Dundee vs. St. Mary's winner, probably Hebron.

March 2
No. 5—6:45 p. m., Tuesday winners.
No. 6—8:30 p. m., Wednesday winners.

March 3
No. 7—8:00 p. m., Thursday winners for championship. No consolation game.

Evanston Regional: Evanston vs. Zion; Waukegan vs. Libertyville; New Trier of Winnetka vs. Highland Park; Niles of Skokie vs. Barrington district winner.

Glen Ellyn (Glenbard) Regional: York of Elmhurst vs. Glenbard of Glen Ellyn; Downers Grove vs. Immaculate Conception of Elmhurst; Hinsdale vs. Bensenville; Maine of Des Plaines vs. Lisle (St. Procopius) district winner.

Ball-player's ballplayer, Cliff Baker, brings Olympians to Stadium Friday

You've heard of a ball-player's ball player, and no doubt, of a ball player's coach. Each is a rare enough find around the fringes of the sports circuit. But when you drive through the pivot and come up with a fellow who has earned both tags, then you've scored yourself a flock of field goals.

Such a rarity is the player-coach of the Indianapolis Olympians—Cliff Baker. The Olympians have the dubious honor of facing the Syracuse Nationals, hottest team with the N.B.A. Friday, February 24 at the Stadium. The Stags square off against St. Louis in the feature game of the evening. Over the span of three years, when the University of Kentucky cagers, who make up the nucleus of the Olympians were virtually monopolizing collegiate laurels, Barker was merely the fifth—and often the sixth man in the box score. The Grozas, the Joneses and the Beards drew the All American notices.

BUT WHEN the Kentuckians decided to try their hand in the professional ranks as a team unit, the same Grozas, Joneses and Beards unanimously elected Barker to be the leader in their venture. They, above all, were aware of the vital role he had played in their spectacular successes.

At war's end, Barker resumed his collegiate career at the University of Kentucky. For three years—1947, 1948, 1949—he was a key to Wildcat success. But few spectators realized it. The first year he was not a starter. He was used strictly as a spot player, whenever the Kentuckians bogged down or found rough going. The second year, Barker was used to gear the Kentucky team to varying speeds and tempos. This was the team that won collegiate Olympic Honors. Last season he was the Kentucky play maker and floor leader.

FLYING FOXES
The flying fox, which is really a huge bat, has the peculiar habit of sleeping while hanging head downward from branches of trees. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, the winged animal destroys so much fruit that there is an absolute ban on the importation of flying foxes into the United States.

List pairings for Arlington grade tourney

Pairings for the second annual Arlington Heights grade school basketball tournament were released this week by high school athletic director Wally Grace. The meet includes all of the grade schools within the district.

Sponsored by the athletic department of the high school, the tourney will be run off Monday Wednesday and Friday afternoons of next week. Defending champ is Mt. Prospect, which trounced Wheeling, 16-11, in the final last year.

Arlington Heights grade school which elected not to compete last year, is seeded No. 1 this time, with Mt. Prospect rated No. 2. Both fives drew byes in consolation brackets.

PAIRINGS for the games, slated to start at 4 and 5 p. m. each of the three days, include:
Monday, 4 p. m., St. James Catholic vs. St. Peter Lutheran Monday, 5 p. m., Wheeling vs. Prospect Heights.

Wednesday, 4 p. m., Arlington Heights vs. winner of game No. 1.

Wednesday, 5 p. m., Mt. Prospect vs. winner of game No. 2.

Friday, 4 p. m., losers of Wednesday games.

Friday, 5 p. m., winners of Wednesday games for championship and trophy.

First four teams competing were all picked by draw. High school coaches will referee the games. Public is invited to see the tournament with admission free in the high school gymnasium.

Bensenville man wins all-events in Elgin kegling

Harry Lindgren of St. Charles was named the Elgin Bowling Assn. 1950 sweepster champion in lieu of the 730 series he established in the second weekend of singles play at Bowlway Recreation center in the four week end bowling tournament which concluded last night.

In the 15th annual tourney sponsored by the EBA, five-man teams rolled on the Schneider Recreation alleys for one week-end, the team title being won by Tharp's of Palatine. All doubles and singles play were held at Bowlway.

Levine and Horn of Elgin took the doubles title in the final event of the tournament, replacing Johnson and Garrison of Barrington who dropped to third place. Another Elgin pair, Badger and Affeld, moved into second place.

C. Wendt of Bensenville took the all-events title while Leon Ruggelbrugge of St. Charles won the all-events (actual) medal.

Lindgren, by virtue of his singles crown, earns $45 in cash and a medal. The doubles winners will split $70 and each will receive a medal. The all-events (handicap) winner will take home $40, while Tharp's of Palatine will receive $150, the team trophy, and five medals for the team triumph.

Sandman beats Crystal Lake in this one

To plenty of fans the Arlington-Crystal Lake fracas was all important, but to at least one youngster his sleep was too insistent as the evening wore on. Though seated in the midst of Heights cheering and dismay, his parents carried him home unmindful of the effort expended on the basketball floor.

The Northwest Conference season has ended and Barrington has set a flock of records. Our congratulations to a very good basketball team, one of the best in the history of the league. From all we are able to observe the Barrington team is made up of a very fine group of boys. We wish we could say the same for the fans who watch them other year of play remaining. It was Osinski's free throw which broke the tie with five seconds to go Friday and kept the Broncho winning string intact.

Gerald Anderson took scoring crown for second year in row

Gerald Anderson's 26 points in the Wauconda game Friday gave the big Bensenville center the league scoring title for the second year in a row with a 220 total. Don Klein of Palatine scored 12 against Barrington and was second with 208. Other leaders in final tabulations are Hacker of Northbrook 165, Prouty of Elia 163, Roake of Barrington 153, Steinbrink of Palatine 137, Armanetti of Barrington 134, Hansen of Barrington 128, Geary of Elia 124, and Waznik of Palatine 123.

A rather complete scoring list will be published next week when the all-conference selections will be named, based on a balloting of the coaches of the eight Northwest Conference schools.

Pick Morton best bet to go to state tourney

The district tournament is on this week at Barrington with the host school the odds on favorite to win over Elia in the final game. If Barrington wins we expect them to finish their season next week when they meet Niles in the Evanston regional. Niles' recent record marks them as the dark horse of the regional.

Another prediction on our part may be sticking the neck out is that Dundee will beat Crystal Lake in the Elgin regional and then lose to Elgin in the tournament final. After that, who ever wins will be whipped in the sectional. It looks to us like the power of the suburban area is packed in the Oak Park area.

Osinski, a junior, transferred from Wauconda to Barrington after fall football practice had started under a cloud of charges of undue influence. Osinski did not help much in football, but he developed sufficiently to win a starting position on Barrington's best team of all time and has an

DePaul vs. Loyola, NU vs. Michigan Saturday night

Another big doubleheader in the string of twelve at the Chicago Stadium is slated for this Saturday night when Northwestern meets Michigan in the opener and DePaul tackles Loyola in the final.

Neither NU nor Michigan have gone anywhere in basketball this year, with the Ann Arbor boys just a notch ahead in the Big Ten standings. Michigan has a 3-6 record while Coach Dutch Lonborg and his mates have a 2-7 slate.

Only schools Northwestern has been able to take this season have been from outside their own league, with the same holding true for Michigan. The northern took the Wildcats at Ann Arbor earlier this season, 59-44.

DEPAUL & LOYOLA, which have taken on the toughest schools in the country, are certainly providing the headline attraction this week.

Just last Saturday Coach Ray Meyer and his Chicagoans administered a sound drubbing to Notre Dame, in spite of being outmanned by the South Bend five. Final tally was 68-56, but could have been larger.

It seems that DePaul can't be judged on won and lost record at all. Though they have broken even in 22 contests this year, eight of those losses have been against five of the top teams in the nation, including Kentucky, Oklahoma A&M, Bradley, and Ohio State.

LOYOLA, TOO has been playing the best, and showing up fine. In spite of losing to some easy squads, the Sheridan road team took Coach Iba's Oklahomaans into camp January 30. Then against Holy Cross, number one five in the U. S., Loyola lost by just 53-48. Of course, outstanding success of the year for Loyola is their breaking the string of 63 successive wins at home for Bowling Green. The Chicagoans won, 67-63.

Cards rate edge Saturday night with sleighbells at stake against Pirates

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights Cardinals have two doubleheaders scheduled for this weekend, both on the home court. Libertyville comes to town Friday night while Palatine is guest Saturday.

On past records of the last several years, Arlington should trip the Wildcats readily. They have done just that nine times of the last eleven games.

But the way the Heights five has been playing this year, the odds point to a repeat win for the visitors. Fans will remember that other game just a month ago when the Cards suffered a 32-29 defeat.

THAT WAS one of the four losses in a row suffered by the locals while on a five game road trip. Only bright spot of that excursion was the first victory over Crystal Lake.

Since that time, however, Arlington has played in and out ball, with the accent on the latter. And the Cards could easily lose again Friday night, in spite of Coach Gene Bell's efforts to reach a .500 rating for the varsity this season.

Past scores of the two teams since the start of the 1945 season:

Koeppen rolls 698 for singles lead Lutheran tourney

Ernest Koeppen took over the singles division of the Northwest Lutheran bowling tournament at Meier-Heins Recreation in Palatine Sunday night when he rolled a 698 series, holding a two pin margin over George Stellman of Aurora.

Doubles lead remained the same over the week end, while the team events saw two squads outroll last week's leaders, Purnell & Wilson of Des Plaines. Immanuel of Belvidere copped the lead with 3073, while the Mt. Prospect Country club five notched 3002 for second spot in the meet that runs through April 23.

Plenty of local bowlers will be in the money in the tourney. Slated to roll this week are forty local keggers included in the 250 men rolling.

Palatine frosh trip Arlington

The hopes of a 2 and 14 Cardinal frosh record was shattered Tuesday afternoon on the local hardwood when a five from Palatine, whom the Red Birds had previously beaten on the Pirate court, ventured to Arlington and with little determination were able to hand the local frosh one of their most disgraceful whippings of the year 18-14.

The Cardinal attitude toward the rim seemed exceedingly nil when a mere 6 attempts from the field found their mark and only 2 of their 11 charity tosses succeeded in swishing the net. The local quintet was equally lax on their defensive maneuvers as Jim Schrage drove toward the bucket with little opposition time after time to tally until he had reached a goal of 12 markers.

The Cardinals aimed to redeem this loss Wednesday and Friday, however, when they complete their 14 game schedule in two exceptionally tough tilts, Wednesday against Libertyville and Friday against Ela.

THE LOCALS first and second segment totals were far from satisfactory but Palatine showed a decided improvement the second segment by boosting a 2 point first period to 12 the second. The three of the Arlington six field goals that accompanied the Cards on their first period bid were garnered by Dick McAuliffe, Tom Bowersox and Herb Gorder leaving the last of the 7 markers totaled by the Cards this half to Dick McAuliffe in the form of a free throw.

Heights again felt a cold chill run through them the third period as only 2 were again credited to their first half count of 7 but Palatine for the second time was quick to take full advantage of their opponents inability to score and increased their lead by 8, 17-9. A glimpse of improvement was noticed of the Cardinal play the final and deciding segment but this was far from enough even tho they managed to outscore the Pirates this quarter 5-1.

Niles sophomores trip Marmion

by DICK BAUMANN
Sophomores win! That's right Friday night, February 17, the Nilehi floor the Nilehi sophomores triumphed 37 to 35 over the Marmion Cadets, for the Nilehi Trojans' second win of the season.

The first quarter Nilehi won to a 12 to 9 lead, but the Cadets bounced back in the second quarter for a half-time lead of 19 to 17.

The third quarter was a close and tuck battle with both teams scoring only six points. In the last period, Nilehi poured in 14 points and built up an 11-point advantage with only a minute and a half remaining. Then repeated foul by Nilehi almost led to disaster but they stalled the last seconds for the victory.

John Budai, Nilehi forward led the scoring with 10 points. Bob Stoothoff, forward, and Bill Peterson, guard, scored nine and eight points respectively.

Bill McHugh, forward, scored 14 points and Dennis Snyder, guard, scored 10 points to lead

First division same in both varsity and frosh-soph standings

A glance at the final standings shows the first division in both sections of the Northwest Conference the same. Barrington gets the first, Bensenville both invade Winnetka to play New Trier.

The Nilehi Trojans will meet the Barrington district winner Wednesday, March 1, at 8:45 p. m. in the Evanston regional tournament.

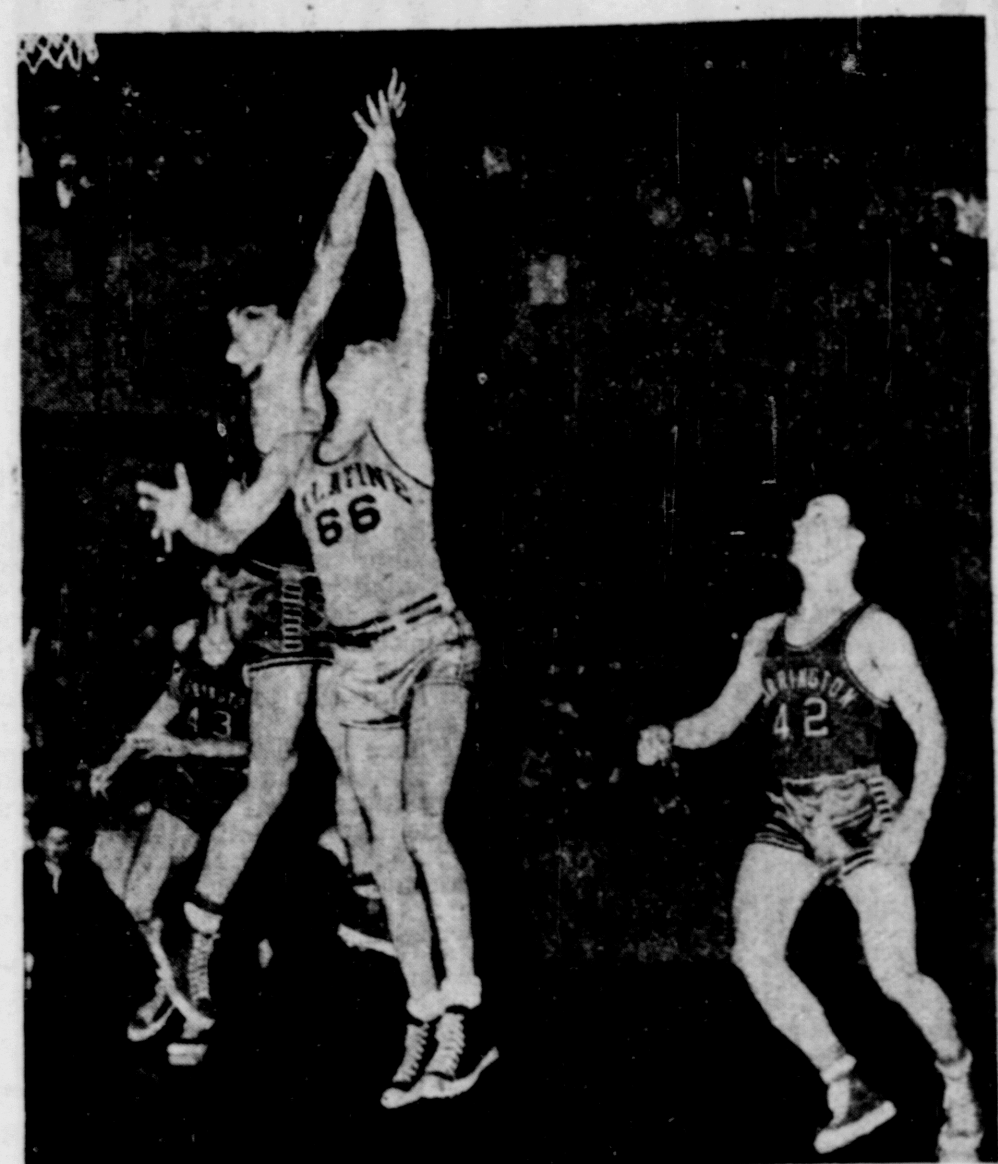

The Nilehi Trojans divided week end games against Marmion and York. They lost to Marmion in an overtime thriller, 48 to 45, while walloping York, 52 to 39, on Saturday night.

In the Marmion battle the Cadets took a 17 to 9 first period lead. They held a 26 to 18 half time advantage. In the third period the Men of Troy whittled the Cadet lead to five points. Ralph Bruck and Fred Grei, Trojan center and forward, respectively, fouled out. Don Walters, Nilehi guard, was forced to leave the game because of a sprained ankle—all in the final period.

THE TROJANS' second team played inspired ball in the final period and overcame a five-point deficit. Ken Howard, Jim Johnson, and Harold Siemsen sparked the Trojans' rally. Nilehi led 44 to 43 with one second remaining in the game. Then Joe Allegretti, Cadet guard, knotted the count with a charity toss.

In the overtime period Joe Donovan, Nilehi forward, fouled out. Bob Babos, Marmion pivot man, dropped in two baskets

Niles to invade New Trier; lose to Marmion, beat York

by AL KRUEGER

The Nile Township high school varsity basketball team closes their regular season Friday, February 24, when they invade Winnetka to play New Trier.

The Men of Troy traveled to York and posted a 52 to 39 victory on the following night. Ken Howard and Fred Grei highlighted the Trojans first half attack which found the Trojans on the heavy end of a 30 to 16 count.

JACK KOSTER, York forward, sparked a rally which pulled them within 10 points of the Trojans. In the last half, four Trojans fouled out. They were Fred Grei, Joe Donovan, Harold Siemsen and Lanny Lange while three York men left the game via the foul route.

Ken Howard was high man for the evening with 15 points while Ralph Bruck and Fred Grei followed with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Jack Koster racked up 13 points for York. Don Walters, Nilehi guard, while Lenny Lange's free throw was Nilehi's only point.

Bob Babos was top man for Marmion with 15 points while Ralph Bruck and Ken Howard netted 14 and 10 points, respectively, for Nile.

The varsity game was a close one throughout the first half. The half ended with Northbrook on top by a slim margin of 24 to 22. The Vikings went ahead during the third quarter by scoring 20 points. This scoring spree gave Northbrook a considerable lead which was never threatened during the second half.

There were 41 fouls committed in the game including the fouling out of five players, three of them being from Northbrook. Wallace Shilks led the Vikings by scoring 16 points. Richard Rodney was next in scoring with 14 points.

Northbrook's Frosh-Soph played with the absence of two of its regulars but still finished on top. Landwehr paced both teams by scoring 13 points; Nelson was next with 7 points.

Last second toss rolls out of basket to give Barrington one point win against Palatine

Palatine almost did the thing that every conference school hoped to do this year beat Barrington. However, the Bronchos dropped a free throw with five seconds to play and won their final and 14th straight league victory, 34-33. It was Dan Osinski who gave Barrington the edge after John Waznik had tied the score with a pair of free tosses in as hectic a finish to a ball game as has ever been seen on the Palatine court. Barrington's frosh-sophs took a 30-17 victory for their 14th straight victory and a perfect league season.

Barrington's varsity team took a 25-13 lead at the half as Palatine's star point getter, Don Klein, was held to a single point. Steve Roake and Ken Shuett, Barrington's top performers, each scored eight points in the first half drive which appeared to have the gameiced away.

KLEIN LED the Pirates in a direct reversal of their first half playing and scored 10 points in the third quarter as Palatine pulled up to within five points of the Bronchos at 31-26. Trying to stop Klein and Waznik the Barrington boys committed numerous fouls and by the middle of the last quarter both Roake and Armanetti had passed out of the picture on personals.

Barrington put on a good stalling game late in the final quarter with Palatine trailing and fouling to get the ball. Luckily Ken Shuett of Barrington missed four straight free throws during this period. Finally John Waznik stole the ball and broke clear on a drive to the basket. Jim Frey hit him from the side in as good a block as he ever made in football and Waznik went down into the overflow crowd.

FREY WAS PUT out of the game for intentional fouling and Waznik given two free throws which he made to tie the score. After nearly a minute of playing Waznik fouled Osinski in the act of shooting. Osinski made the first free throw and missed the second. Palatine took the rebound and Steinbrink took a long shot from midcourt which rolled around the rim and fell off as the game ended.

Only one basket was scored in the last quarter as the crowd and players were both up in the air. There was too much pressure and excitement for good ball playing. Barrington fans were giving the officials a rough time as they began to fear the end of their victory string while Palatine fans were half crazy at the prospect of a victory over Barrington. In the end the result was as had been expected and Barrington became the first school to win both frosh-soph and varsity championships in the same year undefeated.

Palatine had the satisfaction of seeing their team come through with a great second half comeback and prove their ability to play on even terms with the great Barrington Champions.

Big second half gives Ponies 14th victory

Barrington's frosh-sophs had plenty of trouble the first half with the Palatine juniors leading by only 10-9 at half time.

3rd period spurt beats Arlington at Maine

by RON PRELLBERG

The AHTHS varsity cagers fell victim to the Maine Twp. bucketeers' second victory of the season on the Des Plaines court in a 39-33 tussle Friday night. An effective but illegally maneuvered screen benefited the home squad quite frequently when the local charges found themselves lagging behind in the first segment 8-4, and picking up in the second 18-17, but again falling far back in the third period, 34-26, and from then on being able to notch but 7 more by the end of the fourth, 39-33.

The thirty-four charity tosses allotted the Maine five were more than beneficial as 21 of these became successful. Also, these local personals prevented the assistance of three regulars who were ruled out on fouls in the second half. The Arlington scoring crowns seemed to be resting in Gordon Busse and Paul Roche, Busse netting five field attempts and Roche notching his total of 6 in the final half.

A FEEBLE opening attempt was displayed by the visiting Cardinals when their opponents gained an early lead of 4 but the Cards entered the second period fighting, and by the close of this period had decreased the gap to a 1 point margin favoring Maine, 18-17. Gordon Busse and William Morrison fought the hardest for the locals on offense while for the victors Duke Welty was strong.

The third period provided the Maine quintet with their winning margin, 34-26, by combining their strong rebounding power with an improved offense and defense. Eight free throws and four baskets for this period aided the home team in quickly passing their opponents until the sound of the buzzer came to the rescue of the Cardinals.

The Arlingtonites struggled desperately in the fourth period to force Maine into submission but were only fooling them-

When a fast game was begun the first and second periods by the home squad, Arlingtonites proved their worth by not only keeping up with the rapid play but going ahead of the Maine five, 26-22, with a total of 11 baskets from the field and six from the charity line. Phil Knoepfel, Jay Vawter, and Eddie Collins accounted for 17 of their mates' total of 26.

Overflow crowd sees Cards fall behind 1st half, then lose to Lakers

by RON PRELLBERG

One of the most furiously fought battles involving an Arlington team was staged last Saturday night on the local floor where a 36-29 whipping was handed the Cardinals by an all-powerful Crystal Lake varsity squad. The Lakers entered the contest with a single thought, revenge, as Arlington had previously defeat them their first and only defeat out of twenty four contests in a thrilling 38 to 33 battle on January 14.

The overflow crowd never had a dull moment because of the determination and spirit shown by the Arlington Cardinals even tho a sizeable lead was held on to by the visitors from the second period on. Little, but flashy, Gordie Busse, who notched 17 points for the Red Birds by hitting 6 baskets and 5 free tosses, and Crystal Lake's Phil Raywood, leading Illinois center who garnered 16, were the offensive standouts for the evening. Only two more games are left on the local slate, with the Cards facing Libertyville here Friday night and then climaxing their 1949-50 schedule against Palatine Saturday.

A 12-10 first frame represented well the strong rivalry of the two clubs while the second found Arlington falling by the way side, 19-12 after notching only one basket for this frame. The unpreventable hook shot of Tiger pivot man Phil Raywood, proved more than satisfactory to him and his mates in the first half as five baskets were credited to Phil.

Arlington's first half scoring hopes were invested mainly in three of the 7 local participants, Gordie Busse becoming the leader with eight, Bob Pasick doing his share with three, and Jim Brown contributing one of his two charity tosses.

No improvements was indicated by the third frame score when Crystal Lake increased their 7 marker second period lead to 31-23. A quick and strengthful rally was deemed necessary the following frame in order that the Cardinals might bestow upon their state-rated opponents their second defeat. The Cardinals struggled unceasingly to accomplish this but by the final buzzer they had bowed to the visitors after being able only to outscore the Lakers by 1 in the final segment, 6-5.

A PREVIOUS disappointment came to Arlington spectators when a 33-26 count favored the visiting Crystal Lake Tiger JVs over their opponents. The Arlington squad showed a decided improvement over their last meeting with the Laker quintet, for 13 points made up the first tilt's winning margin. A pair of sophomores were responsible for the majority of the home squad's scoring. Phil Knoepfel was tops with 9 and Jay Vawter trailed his mate closely with 8.

by RONALD GAWRYS

The Nilehi freshman basketball team journeyed to Waukegan Saturday morning, February 18, only to be handed a 41 to 33 defeat. As the game started, the Trojans jumped to a quick lead, but the Bulldogs would not be defeated on their home floor.

Richard Meyer and Dave Saylor led the scoring for the Trojans with 7 and 6 points, while Roosevelt Nixon and Ned Anderson led the Bulldogs with 8 and 7 points respectively.

tempts from the charity line, and as time progressed Schneider had raised his total to an impressive 15.

The Red Bird energy dwindled gradually the opening frame of the second half and it again declined the final frame, but this time the Cards were out-pointed by a lone tally. The Lakers grabbed a substantial lead in the third period 29-23 and cling closely to their advantage the fourth and final period, 33-26.

HOBBIES

Yours and Mine

by BETTY AINSLEE
Out at 35 W. Johnson st., in Palatine lives a shy, pretty young girl who is really a talented artist. She is Mrs. Beverly Hapke who attended the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts for two years, and has ambitions of being an illustrator for magazine stories.

At the moment her talent is still a hobby, but she has some nice water color paintings that she has made—and only lack the "how to do it" to realize her ambition.

Before her marriage Beverly was an apprentice for a fashion artist. Later she worked for a wrapping paper company drawing new ideas for gift wrappings, so she's had plenty of opportunity to use her imagination.

"I like to read a story and then draw my own pictures to go with it," said dark haired brown eyed Beverly.

And from the water color sketches of girls in traditional gowns and still life pieces that she showed to me I bet she'd be a good illustrator.

SEEMS OUT PALATINE way there are a number of housewives who spend their spare time drawing or painting. How ever Beverly would like to be considered a professional artist rather than just a hobbyist. So here's hoping that someday she'll have her dream realized.

Beverly too is fixing up their living room, and has painted the walls a different and lovely shade of blue green. A rose colored modern chair fits in nicely with some of the future ideas Mrs. Hapke has for her home—and an artist's easel with a newly completed water color painting of a plant adds to the charm of the place.

Beverly won a contest one time and the prize was a mink coat—which is really a super-duper reward. She has also won a scholarship in the art school that advertises in most popular magazines "draw me" and test your ability as an artist. However she declared the lessons were so simple that she felt she really wasn't getting much from the course.

Well could be that someday I'll open up a popular magazine and read a story and find Beverly Hapke's name as the illustrator. For dreams are the stuff from which hobbies are made—and hobbies often turn into money making professions.

Say, surely there must be more hobbies in and around Arlington Heights. Maybe you have one yourself—or your husband, or friend—anyway this is an S.O.S. to please call Arl. Hts. 2021-W and let me have the chance to talk to you about it—hmmmmmm.

Any way, Card frosh defeat Crystal Lake

by RON PRELLBERG

THE AHTHS frosh cagers refusing to be subdued staged a fourth period comeback last Friday afternoon on their own hardwood to emerge a 38-28 victor over the visiting Crystal Lake five. Arlington was trailing through three quarters of play and were compelled to come through with an 18 marker final period to realize their ambition.

Johnny Eakins and Herb Gorder were ranked high in the Card scoring department by garnering nine and eight respectively, while the Lakers banked on Norman Calbow who baffled the locals from the opening period till the final whistle with a series of outstanding offensive tactics in order to post a 16 point total.

A LOSS seemed inevitable when the Crystal Lake charges set up a temporary press the first frame, stealing the ball time after time for another 2 tallies. Later as this press was slowly being penetrated, the Cards moved on down the floor and set up a series of offensive maneuvers during the second period that placed them within 3 tallies of their opponents at half time, 19-16.

A lean but even period was staged by both clubs as only 4 points were accounted for in their third frame totals. The final frame was entirely reversed for the Arlington five, however, when the local frosh pivoted and drove their way forward until 18 tallies had been added to their third frame count of 20 to boost it to an impressive 38 markers in comparison with another meager 5 garnered by the Lakers in the closing segment.

Card frosh beat Warren

by RON PRELLBERG

Little effort was necessary for the first time this year in order to roll out a victory for the Arlington Cardinal freshmen as they took to the local court last Monday in a 35-24 thriller. Arlington substitutes poured in and out of the game freely after the Red Bird frosh had claimed an early first quarter lead of 10 in fact an entirely new ball club took the floor the second period for the Cards.

Herb Gorder and Roy Hinnenberg used their height and ability to full advantage as a final reading found Herb with a 6 marker total and Roy with an identical accomplishment of 6. It was Paul Richardson, flashy Warren guard, who dealt the locals their biggest headache by garnering a total of 8 through 4 field goals.

Arlington started off with a bang the opening period and continued their domination thru the second segment until a 17 to 9 half time score favoring the red and white of AHTHS was posted. The Cardinal offensive tactics were clicking the first half as the locals notched 7 from the field while their Warren opponents pitched in 3 field attempts. Roy Hinnenberg and Dick Paulsen did the brunt of the work in the Cardinal onslaught the opening half by accounting for 4 and 3 tallies respectively.

Thirteen markers separated the two squads going into the third frame 28-15 but as the fourth and final frame emerged the Cardinals had their lead cut to 11. Arlington fouling was cut to a minimum for the afternoon in comparison with other previous records established by the Cardinals thus allowing the visitors only 12 charity tosses only 4 of which were made good.

Somewhere in the Andean highlands of Peru or Ecuador, the white man first came upon the white potato. Not until long after he transplanted it from South America to Europe did it become known as the "Irish" potato.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

by F. J. FREEMAN

To me the first of March is the first of spring because any day now we may have a touch of spring-like weather. March fourth was the first such day in 1949, and sure enough there was the first red-shouldered hawk sailing and screaming in the clear blue sky. He may have been around all winter, but more likely he had just arrived. Blue sky and bright sun plus a screaming, sailing red-shoulder does more than anything to tip the balance of my thinking from winter to spring. Two red-winged blackbirds sitting disconsolately on last year's rushes in a frozen marsh, such as I saw on March 2nd, are not enough to work the magic. Nor a bluebird flying thru the falling snow. Geese flying high against a cold north wind under a grey sky stir the heart and have almost the potency of the hawk to tip the balance; but the observer, shivering in the wintry blast, is still prisoner of the season.

Cornelia and I awoke to the coo of the mourning dove on the 4th of March. It sounded just as tired and tiresome as at the end of summer, and I thought, my gosh, do we have to go thru all that again! Sometimes in my more poetic moods the cry of the dove calls to mind somnolent summer days, still and full of sunshine and laziness. Most of the time though it just makes me tired.

March 5th—Geese and meadowlarks have been observed and today I paced a northward flying duck hawk at thirty miles per hour which is much slower than they can go when they exert themselves.

March 10th—At lunch today near a slough I had the good fortune of seeing a Cooper's hawk and a red-tail at the same time. Then at some distance over the marsh, I saw three rough-legged hawks playing together. They were attacking each other in power dives and flying around like crazy the same as crows do this time of year. One flew with its talons showing as though it was carrying something, and through my binoculars I saw something like a small nest-building twig fall through the air. One of the hawks pursued it as it fell, but I could not see whether it had caught it or not. In spring it is not only a young man's fancy which lightly turns.

March 22nd being a rainy day I stopped at Goose Lake on Otis road, Barrington to watch a small flock of ducks including a pair of golden-eyes. When the courting season comes on, the male golden-eye goes through all sorts of fetching antics to attract the female. They kick up the water to display their bright red leg, snap their head back and puff up their cheeks. This male must have been carrying on something fierce for at the time I noticed them, the female was far gone in a state of "fretment." In fact she had apparently swooned and lay supinely upon the water with her neck outstretched as though dead. The male dipped his bill in the water and snapped his head back smartly, but seemed more interested in preening his wings than going on with the affair. Suddenly the female started to sink under the water. The male assumed the head up position with cheek feathers fluffed out. Just as the top of her head disappeared below the surface, he seized it with his bill, and—no doubt saved her from death by drowning. Such gallantry received its sufficient reward, and the male swam away vigorously with neck erect and cheeks puffed out, while the female bathed ecstatically!

Also at this pond I saw four geese sail in to join two others already on the still ice covered portion. They alighted and slid forward on their heels for several feet. After much snake-like action of the necks, the newcomers were accepted. Probably the first pair considered this their territory as a pair of geese bred there last season. At noontime I came back for lunch and found an immature bald eagle. This one had not the white head and tail which the mature birds attain after their third year. The ducks and geese had left and the gulls and crows kept to the air while the eagle flew. When it settled in a tree, the other birds settled down also. The crows were much interested but did not pester it like they do the familiar hawk. Several times the eagle flew over the lake sailing and turning with ease and grace. It stooped to the surface of the water several times but did not pick up anything. Its voice was a guttural growled ar-r-r-r. I watched it perched or flying for over an hour.

March 29th—Stopped at the Barrington slough for lunch today and had a field day of it. Found pied-billed and horned grebes, Canada geese, green-winged and blue-winged teals, bald pates, lesser scaup, ring-necked, canvasback, golden-eye, bufflehead, cormorant, kingfish-

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "I have affected a change in my business." Say, "I have effected a change in my business, but was not affected by the market." Effect means to accomplish, affect to influence. Do not say, "I hoped to have gone." Say, "I hoped to go."

Do not say, "The work is most done." Say, "is almost finished."

Do not say, "Please write me soon," or, "I shall write you next week." These expressions are colloquial. It is much better to say, "Please write to me," and, "I shall write to you."

Do not say, "We plan on spending our vacation in the mountains." Say, "We plan to spend our vacation in the mountains."

Do not say, "The food was very tasty." Say, "was very tasteful (or, savory)."

Words Often Mispronounced
Table d'hôte. Pronounce table-dot, a as in ask, e as in her unstressed, o as in no, accent both the first and last syllables.

Conversant. Accent first syllable, not the second, so often heard.

Varicose. Pronounce var-i-kos, a as in at, i as in it, os as in most (not as in nose), accent first syllable.

Studio. Pronounce the u as in cube, not as in rule.

Cowardice. Pronounce kou-er-dice, i as in kiss (not as in dice), accent first syllable.

Facade (front of a building). Pronounce fa-sad, first a as in er and six tree swallows. The family reports shriek and field sparrows and a friend had a towhee. Spring is coming early this year. It was summer warmth today until the wind shifted at about three o'clock and top coats were in order.

ask unstressed; second a as in ah, accent second syllable.

Jelly Roll
4 eggs (warranted)
¾ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
¾ cup flour
1 scant tsp. double acting baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
Method: Separate eggs—beat yolks until very light—add sifted sugar and beat to a cream—add vanilla. Sift and measure flour—sift again with baking powder—add to egg mixture. Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Fold lightly into first mixture. Line a 15"x10" pan with heavy oiled paper—spread batter into pan. Bake in preheated oven at 375 degrees for 12 minutes. Turn out while hot and spread with favorite jelly and roll up into a towel. Sprinkle with powdered sugar. When cool cut in slices and serve.

Eleanor Roosevelt interviewed by Heights girl at Iowa State

"Earning a living is just part of education. How to LIVE is the major part." This was Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's statement when she was interviewed recently by Arline Wiegand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Wiegand of Arlington Heights, at Iowa State college at Ames, Ia.

"To make life more interesting," said Mrs. Roosevelt, "is the basic reason that both men and women attend colleges."

"College students are much more serious now than a generation ago, and more so than the generation before," stated Mrs. Roosevelt.

"This seriousness can be attributed to the fact that students have been through a war,

TAX FACTS

By George M. Mahan, Executive Secretary, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The township budget and appropriation ordinance of every township in Illinois must be available for public inspection in tentative form at least 30 days, instead of one week, prior to final action enacted by the last General Assembly. Since final action on the budget and appropriation ordinance is taken at the annual town meeting, which is held on the first Tuesday of April each year, the tentative budget and appropriation ordinance this year will have to be available for public inspection not later than March 5, 30 days before the annual town meeting date of April 4.

A change was also made by the last General Assembly in the amount of tax that must be levied by a township if it needs to qualify for State aid for poor relief. Under the new law, sponsored by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, a township may qualify for State aid for poor relief if it levies an amount which, when added to the unobligated balance on hand, will require a tax rate of 10c per $100 valuation based on the last known equalized value of the taxable property located in the township. For example, if the last known valuation of property in the township was $1,000,000, a tax rate of 10c per $100 of valuation would produce $1,000. If the township at the close of its fiscal year had on hand $400 in the poor relief fund against which there were no outstanding bills, the township would only have to levy $600 to qualify for State aid, instead of $1,000 as in the past.

A pamphlet, "Reference Notes for Annual Town Meeting," containing complete information that township officers and township voters need to know with respect to the annual town meeting, has been prepared by the Director of Legal Research of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. 500 copies of this pamphlet have been prepared, which will be sent free of charge upon request—411½ S. Fifth St., Springfield.

The Federal budget can be balanced, the Federal government can live within its income, with no increase in Federal taxes.

While we are pouring billions of dollars into aid to England, Canada has reduced its taxes five times since the end of the war, cutting the tax bill of Canadian citizens almost in half. Canada also has balanced her budget, despite these drastic tax cuts. At a time when unemployment in our country has risen to a post-war high, unemployment in Canada has dropped to less than 2 per cent.

Of course we here in America are buying potatoes produced in Canada at our grocery store because our Federal government is buying the potatoes produced here in our own country at a higher price. Our Federal government, despite its bulging storehouses, won't even release the potatoes, butter, eggs, dried milk, dried fruits and cheese to give to the Illinois Public Aid Commission for distribution to the people on relief in Illinois, because this might offend some storekeepers from whom those on relief are buying Canadian potatoes with taxpayers' money supplied by the IPAC. Don't you think the Federal budget could be balanced and excise taxes repealed?

PESKY CROWS

Although many farmers dislike crows because they destroy corn, these birds also help the farmer by eating many insect pests. The World Book Encyclopedia tells us that scientists have estimated that crows will eat nineteen bushels of insects in one season on the average farm.

This lovable threesome is the pride and joy of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Busse of 303 Hiawatha, Mount Prospect.

Blond and blue-eyed Billy is one and one-half years old. At the time this picture was taken he was only four months old. But now he walks, talks a little bit, and climbs most of the time!

"Billy is going to take after Bobby," said Mrs. Busse when describing her youngsters. "They are both real climbers and climb on top of everything." The favorite perch of these brothers is on top of the kitchen cabinets. Little Billy, who began by climbing out of bed, now keeps up with Bobby who has discovered lots of excellent obstacles.

All boy
Three and one-half year old Bobby is "all boy" from head to toe and morning till night. He has brown hair, brown eyes, and a smile that portrays the happy, active youngster that he is.

This package of energy is the center of activity in the Busse home. You can be sure he is always into something!

"Bang, bang—bang, bang" is a common sound in this house of John Wayne and Hop-a-long Cassidy. Billy is usually Hop-a-long, but right now he chooses to be John Wayne. Summertime to these children means delightful weekends on Grandma and Grandpa's farm in Crystal Lake. They have their own pony which they have named "Tiny." He really is a pint-sized pony—as high as a table top.

Sister Suzie
Suzanne Busse, 5½, is the serious, quiet type. She also has brown hair and eyes and a pleasant disposition. Kindergarten at St. Paul's Lutheran church and dancing lessons at the Arlington Heights field house keeps this little girl busy.

Wilson School Community News

A letter from Fred Bista Jr. to his mother reports that he is now stationed in White Horse, Yukon Territory, Canada, where the temperature was 28 degrees below zero the day he arrived. February 12. Fifty-two hundred men are taking part in a mock war in that section. Fred says that prices are quite high in White Horse, cigarettes are 45 cents per pack to Americans and beer is 50 cents per bottle. He went skiing on his free time and as far as he is concerned, he would be satisfied to spend the duration of his time in the army in that beautiful territory. Mail from home is always welcome, and for the benefit of friends that wish to write him, his new address is Corp. Fred W. Bista, 16255627, 161 Pict. Recon. Flt. APO 949 % Postmaster, Seattle, Wash.

The big news around here last week was the weather, and because of it the meeting scheduled for last Tuesday evening at the school to organize a Community Club was postponed to Monday of this week, at which time twenty-three persons met and elected temporary officers as follows: Frank Moskal, president, and Mrs. Thompson, secretary-treasurer. The organization is for school and community betterment. There will be children are the William Busses of Mt. Prospect. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Crofoot of Crystal Lake are the maternal grandparents. Great-grandmothers are Mrs. Anna Lutz of Arlington Heights and Mrs. May Crofoot of Chicago, now in California.

an open meeting next Monday evening at the school, February 27, at 8 p. m., to approve by-laws set up by a committee that is meeting Friday, and to elect officers. The entire community is urged to attend this meeting Monday.

Harold Simondson of Pine-gate is a new first-grade student at the Wilson school. He moved to this area with his parents last week from Elk Grove.

Mr. Bollman visited the school last Tuesday morning. He came at 9 a. m. and observed both rooms until noon.

Phyllis Erickson of Palatine rd., has been home from school for the past week because of illness.

Mrs. John Molitor of Willow rd., entered Evanston hospital last week where she will be confined for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Moskal and Mr. and Mrs. W. Gillespie have opened a hamburger and refreshment stand on Mannheim rd., just north of Higgins. We wish these two young couples lots of success in their new venture.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Kingsley had guests from Iowa last week. Mrs. Kingsley's cousin, Miss Ruth Todd, drove here with her brother-in-law, James Emerson and his two children, Wanda and Marjory.

Mrs. Howard Elliott and daughter, Pat, motored to Decatur last week to visit an uncle who has been ill. Saturday, the Elliotts attended the wedding of Mrs. R. Basile's daughter in Chicago, and Sunday they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leozotte of Chicago, where they celebrated five February birthdays, namely, Pauline Elliott, 9th, Mrs. Leozotte, 10th, Mr. Leozotte 14th, Irene Leozotte, 5th, and Pauline's son Lonny, 18th of February. There was one huge cake with all the names in icing.

Fred Bista Sr. was a participant in the recent bowling tournament in Arlington Heights, and Placed 7th and 8th. His partner was George Winkleman.

Casters for Bed

If a bed must stand in a corner or alcove, it should be equipped with good ball-bearing casters so that it can be rolled out for making or for cleaning the room.

Gems of thought

CONFIDENCE
By mutual confidence and mutual aid Great deeds are done, and great discoveries made.

—Homer.
There is a confidence necessary to human intercourse, and without which men are often more injured by their own suspicions, than they could be by the perfidy of others.

—Burke.
The presence of mistrust, where confidence is due, withers the flowers of Eden and scatters love's petals to decay.

—Mary Baker Eddy.
Society is built upon trust, and trust upon confidence in one another's integrity.

—South.
If we are truly prudent we shall cherish those noblest and happiest of our tendencies — to love and to confide.

—Bulwer-Lytton.
To trust God when we have securities in our iron chest; but easy, but not thank-worthy; but to depend on Him for what we cannot see, as it is more hard for man to do, so it is more acceptable to God.

—Feltham.

Additional gas tax one solution to road problems says Casey

Seven out of every ten miles of road in Illinois' primary highway system will be completely worn out by 1960 unless the state can get more money for road construction, Charles P. Casey, state director of public works and buildings warned Monday.

He called for an increase in the 3 cent state gas tax to save Illinois from "one of the most critical highway situations in the country."

Casey pointed out that under the present tax $27 million a year is available in state and federal funds for road construction. This is compared with $211 million which engineering experts say Illinois should spend each year for the next ten years to meet highway needs.

He said a 1 cent increase in the gas tax would give the state about $75 million more in the biennium for road construction if all proceeds go to the state government. The increase, he explained, would enable the state to get $40 million more from the federal government in addition to an extra $35 million in state revenues.

Casey disclosed 28 other states have increased their gas taxes since the war even though the road problem in these states is less critical than in Illinois. While gas taxes in other states range from 4 to 9 cents a gallon, he said, Illinois' tax has remained at 3 cents for the last 20 years.

50,000 Miles - No Wear!

1. Five Years' Driving in 70 Days! To test the wear-fighting ability of amazing new Conoco Super Motor Oil, six brand-new cars raced over blistering highways along the Mexican border . . . 14 hours a day for 10 weeks. After 50,000 miles of continuous driving, engines showed no wear of any consequence . . . in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth of an inch on crankshafts and cylinders! Astounding proof: factory polishing marks were still visible on piston rings!

2. New-Car Mileage! For the last 5,000 miles of this gruelling test—equal to 5 years of normal mileage—gasoline mileage was as good as for the first 5,000 miles . . . actually there was an average difference for the fleet of only 4/100 of a mile per gallon! Proved: Conoco Super Motor Oil—with crankcase drains at proper intervals and regular care—can keep your new car new! New Conoco Super Motor Oil conclusively showed itself to be the great new modern wear-fighter!

3. New-Car Power! Quicker Starts!
Yes—Conoco Super Motor Oil's extra protection keeps that factory flash . . . that showroom smoothness . . . year after year! Conoco Super Motor Oil's exclusive ability to OIL-PLATE metal surfaces makes your engine last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil! Conoco Super Motor Oil virtually stops wear before it starts . . . keeps your engine new and clean!

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Gurkin and son of Chicago enjoyed Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Rill, Busse rd. and hard left for Kansas City Tuesday afternoon to be with her mother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Scharringhausen, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Scharringhausen, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Scharringhausen, and Mrs. Otto Scharringhausen, Mr. and Mrs. John Pingel Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pingel, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Busse, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Busse, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Precht, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Garlisch, Mr. and Mrs. John Garlisch, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moehling, all of Elk Grove, attended the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pingel, held at the Maple Park town hall, February 18. Mr. Pingel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pingel Sr., former residents of Elk Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leonard entertained the Arthur Cole's of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Cole's mother, Mrs. J. Erickson of Souix City, Iowa, at dinner Sunday.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Behrens, Algonquin, rd., Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth Kasper of Berwyn, Mr. and Mrs. M. Albrecht of La-Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Nebel of South Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Behrens, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Honemann of Arlington Heights.

Early Tuesday morning Mrs. Arthur Leonard received word that her father, Mr. R. E. Smith of Kansas City, Mo., had died. To Mrs. Leonard the community extends its sympathy. Mrs. Leonard is a member of the 6888 Central Postal Directory.

A record year with $228,000,000 new business placed is reported in this issue by The Great-West Life Assurance Company in the advertisement covering its 58th Annual Report published by V. H. Beisler, who represents the Company in Arlington Heights.

Total business in force of $1,503,000,000 represented an increase of $157,000,000 during 1949. The increase was the largest in the Company's history and 33% above the average of the previous five years. The total business in force at the end of the year included $1,262,000,000 insurances and $241,000,000 deferred annuities.

Total assets were increased to $357,600,000 at the year-end. With the increase of $26,300,000 in 1949 the growth in assets in 4 years was over $100,000,000. These assets are the savings of the thousands of policyholders held by the Company for future payment under the terms of their insurance policies.

R.B. Ayres joins Prospect Heights Appliances

Max Rhodes of Prospect Heights Appliances has awakened to the fact that one man can not do a two man's job. "I have been lucky," he told Paddock Publications this week. "I found a man who can do more work in a day than I."

His "find" is Robert B. Ayres, 625 South Highland ave., Arlington Heights, formerly a resident of the South Shore, Chicago.

Mr. Ayres is no stranger to the appliance field. He has left the National Appliance and Radio Dealers Association where he was regional field director for the midwest. This organization, known as NARDA is the retail trade association for appliance, radio and TV dealers.

Previously Mr. Ayres was mid-west district sales manager for Federal Telephone and Radio Corporation, a subsidiary of I. T. & T.

With the combination of Rhodes and Ayres, the firm will be able to give better service to customers and to personally answer inquiries that come over the phone or by mail.

WE EARNESTLY NEED HOMES TO SELL

It is not necessary for you to list your property with us exclusively. If you have a 2-3-4 bedroom home to sell, we have a Jan. & Feb. business transfers to Chicago have brought us many buyers who MUST find homes. This annual shift of business personnel creates a market sometimes not to be seen again during the year.

Perhaps you would like to call us and talk it over—there certainly will be no obligation on your part. If you are considering the sale of your property, and your price is within market range, we are certain we can be of service to you today.

We Have Waiting Prospects

We could use a lot of space telling you about the sales record we have made and how fast we have sold certain individual properties listed with us. But we don't think you are interested in individual cases unless it is your own! However we would like to present this one fact to your for your consideration. During the past several months we have been selling homes as fast and faster than we have been able to list them. And right today we have a long waiting list of prospective buyers. We can sell almost any desirable home immediately.

Stonegate 'arrived' back in 1928

Thomas J. Herr, S. State rd., Arlington Heights, sends a clipping from a Chicago newspaper that will recall to old timers the days when Stonegate of today was only farm land.

"The establishment of a new record in community development was celebrated by the people of Arlington Heights with the turning on of the street lights at Stonegate, last week.

"With this event the final stage of the transition from farm land to a residential district was accomplished. Basic improvements had previously been completed and it had remained only to finish a short stretch of street paving and install the balance of the English lantern-type street lights.

"But five months ago Stonegate was fields and pastures. Prominent among the new homes at Stonegate is the $50,000 country estate of Bert H. Lauderdale, developer of the community. With a Japanese garden, lavish landscaping and striking buildings this estate promises to become one of the show places of the northwest section."

The above was printed in a November, 1928 paper.

When bricklayers did a full day's job

William A. Meyer, 200 W. St. James st., Arlington Heights, served as a mason contractor in this territory for 25 years. The mason work on many business houses, schools and churches in Palatine and Arlington Heights was done by Mr. Meyer and his crew. He retired from his own contracting business in 1923.

For nine years after that he worked for a concern in Chicago, where he was employed as a bricklayer. In 1933 he was hired by the State of Illinois to work as a patrolman on the highway. That job lasted until 1940.

Though more or less retired these days, Mr. Meyer keeps busy writing poetry about days gone by. Following is one about his days as a contractor.

(Tribute to the men who worked for Mr. William A. Meyer)

When I look back to By Gone Days
It fills my heart with cheer
To think of all the brick I laid
In all those long, long years.

I had a crew of bricklayers
That understood their job
Not to forget the laborers
That could handle the load.

To men like these I look with pride
And the work that they have done
While working with me side by side
Those years that now are gone.

Now most of them have wandered
To a far and better land
Where some day I hope to meet them
With my towel in my hand.

Fifty-five years ago all attended Sunday School

Paul Wilson, Palatine, found among some books purchased at a recent auction a directory of the members of the Sunday School of the Palatine Methodist

With a possible dim-out order next week the Way-Back-When editor turned to the files and the following story in May 10th 1946 edition, tells what may be repeated next week.

Arlington Heights business men, industries, ministers and others are obeying dimout restrictions. All stores close at six o'clock. No lights are in use if a store is open during the day.

Emerald Cleaners is operating three days only, closing Wednesday evening for the balance of the week, although the office will be open. Machinery can not be operated.

Arlington Seating, E. W. A. Rowles Co. and Creamery Package are operating the first 3 days of the week, closing Wednesday evening.

Some of the churches are eliminating all evening meetings. Arlington Heights high school and the elementary schools have postponed all evening activities.

Lights out at village hall

The municipal building is operating on the dimout. The library closes at six o'clock; special meetings of village officials are kept to a minimum and few lights are used during the day. Members of the fire department expected to decorate their quarters the other evening. Custodian Firnbach told them, "no soap" and they went home.

Garages on 4-hour schedule

No current of any kind is being used in garages except between two and six o'clock five days a week.

Gas stations without auxiliary power and hand operated pumps are selling gas only between the hours of two and six daily. Beauty shops are using electric current only four hours a day.

Restaurants and food stores, who are exempt are cutting electrical consumption down to a minimum.

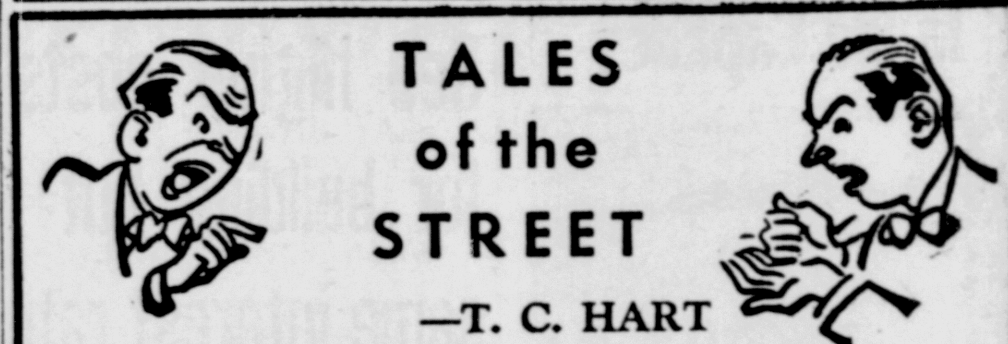

Printers also quit

The commercial printing department of Paddock Publications is operating on three day schedule, Monday, Tuesday and Friday. The entire printing and publishing plant, except business and Western Union office is closed Saturdays.

ist church, under date of Dec. 30, 1895-55 years ago. All of the officers, except Miss Lottie Hart and Anna Matthei (Mrs. Brockway) have died. They were Ida Smith, Dr. J. L. Black, Miss Myrtle Smith, A. G. Smith, Chas. Nestor, Gertrude Lytle, W. L. Smyser, Nellie Julian, Adella Smith, Tillie Schultz.

In addition to the above officers the teachers included A. R. Baldwin, Miss L. Hopkins, Lena Anderson, Clara Schultz, Mrs. L. R. Hicks, Mrs. J. Taylor, Belle Cooper, Mrs. E. Richmond, Vastie Lambert, and Grace Beutler (the latter being the old one still living).

Practically all of the members of the elder classes have passed on, but the younger ones who went to Sunday school while in their teens included Delia Knigge, Clarence Comfort, Mamie Kuebler, Willie Abelman, Lizzie Wienecke, Richard Bennett, Lillie Abelman, Maggie Wienecke, Hattie Kuebler, Maggie Godknecht, George Vehe, Caele Gainer, Lea Nason, Gracie VanHorn, Ella Winegar. Officers, teachers, and pupils numbered 157.

"THIS IS OUR PROBLEM"

That's the subject of a talk to be given at the next meeting of the Palatine Community Club on Monday evening, March 6, at 8:00 at the Consolidated school.

The speaker will be Gordon W. Hostetter, lawyer, speaker and economist and it will be one of the most important talks ever given in Palatine.

What is our problem? Is it communism, socialism, statism or what? Where is America heading? Are we headed down the dark trail that so many other countries have followed that has cost the people of those countries their freedom, or are we going to retain the American way of life that has made this country the greatest country on earth.

These things will be discussed at the Community Club meeting and you will want to be there.

The United States, with only 6% of the world's surface and 7% of the world's population, has 85% of the world's automobiles, 50% of the world's hospital beds, 92% of the world's bathtubs, 48% of the world's radio sets and 52% of the world's high school students. It also produces 34% of the world's meat and creates 45% of the world's total wealth.

All of this has been accomplished under the American way of life with free enterprise and individual freedom, ambition and initiative. Do you want to risk the loss of all of this by the loss of the American birthright of freedom and the substitution of the all powerful centralized government that will regulate you from the cradle to the grave?

Do you know that in England today the government has the power to direct labor within one industry to another, to tell any man between the ages of 13 and 50 and every woman between the ages of 18 and 40 where to work, what to do and what to be paid? Do you want that to happen here?

These freedom programs are proving to be a great educational feature and have been witnessed by thousands of factory workers as well as members of clubs and civic groups.

As the program with its visual features is best given before small groups, the Palatine presentation has been limited to 100 persons. Admission will be by ticket only and the tickets are free. Just contact a representative for your ticket to hear and see this all important discussion of "this is our problem."

A lot of people will say, "it can't happen here." The people of other countries thought the same thing, but it did happen and it has been happening here, slowly, gradually under numerous disguises and behind many "fronts" for the past seventeen years.

Do we want freedom or ultimate regulation of every movement? Hear "this is our problem" at the Community Club, March 6th.

TEAM WORK

A fine example of community team work took place the other evening when the boards of education of the Palatine township and the Consolidated school met in a joint session to discuss school problems.

The high school will soon ask the voters to authorize the building of an addition to the high school. Their plans call for an expansion that will take care of the growth in high school classes for the next ten years.

In such a plan there would of course be some space that would not be used for the first few years and the Consolidated school, facing a rapid growth of their school enrollment immediately, would like to take advantage of those vacant rooms and rent them for a time and thereby put off the time that they will have to go to the voters and ask for authority to expand their building.

The Consolidated school next fall will send their fifth grade pupils back to the three country schools which the district still owns. In addition to this they will need two more rooms which they haven't got to take care of increased enrollment.

The grade school now has twenty-eight rooms available and in five years time will need sixty rooms to take care of the foreseeable increase in enrollment. Therefore, if the Consolidated school could secure space in the high school to take care of a couple of their grades for a few years, they could get by without asking for an enlarged building program of their own.

Both school boards looked at the situation from the angle of a community problem in education and there is no question but that a satisfactory arrangement can be worked out between the two boards that will be for the best interests of the schools and the taxpayers of the two districts.

The joint meeting of the two boards was a sound logical cooperative effort on their part to solve some of the schools' "growing pain" problems which are just about the most important and pressing problems which confront the community today.

WORST IN YEARS

Last week's ice storm was one of the worst which has hit this area in many years.

"I've been with the Public Service Co. 37 years and I never saw anything like it," said Martin Schreiber, district manager of the company.

The company had 1,000 men working 18 hours a day to repair the damage and 25,000 homes were affected in this district. Trees and particularly elm trees caught the brunt of the storm and thousands of dollars in damage was done to the trees.

Arlington Heights, where state elms have always been the pride and joy of the City of Good Neighbors, was particularly hard hit by the storm and Glen Ellyn, another city of elms, was also severely damaged.

It will be a long time before the wreckage of that storm is all cleared away and the damaged trees will stand as a reminder of what vicious weather this "open" winter finally did turn loose.

BIRDS IN THE ICE

The bird population had practically all of its food supply cut off by the big ice storm, not only was the ground covered, but every weed which might have furnished some seeds for feed, was coated with thick ice.

In this emergency, the birds more than ever, looked to their human friends for help and all during the storm, flocks of them hovered over the feeding grounds looking for a handout. Cardinals, juncos, starlings, blue jays, sparrows and woodpeckers vied with each other to be first on the feeding grounds in the morning and the trees and bushes were full of them waiting for breakfast to be served. The squirrels, too, were right on the job and to our surprise, even contested for the right to eat the suet tied on some bush limbs. That suet was put there as a delicacy for the birds, but the squirrels insisted on getting their share and battled with the birds for a chance to get their share.

VACATIONERS

The folks from around here who are basking in the Florida sunshine, are probably laughing up their sleeves at the news of us poor fish up here buried beneath tons of ice.

Bill DePue keeps sending up luscious fruit from his place and tempting pictures showing the

THE FENCE POST

SNOWBOUND

Did you try to get on an Eastbound bus last week? The space from highway to benches could be cleared of snow in half an hour.

Mama spent ten days with me. I took her to catch Evanston bus, 3:00 p. m. Thursday, but she went home nervous and upset because—

(1) afraid of being car hit standing on highway.
(2) apprehensive of missing bus waiting on opposite sidewalk.

(3) absence of mountain goat agility making snowbank 100 high for lame knee.

Please, let's help these independent, not-so-youngs. I'm ready and willing if you'll tell me how.

Mrs. Sinclair B. McCoy
Arlington Heights

TO THE PRESIDENT AND TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

At a special meeting of the Scarsdale Property Owners Association held Friday, February 10, 1950, the members present considered a number of sketches for Type 30 Home which Leonard W. Besinger & Associates, Inc. proposed for construction along Davison street, Dryden Lane, and State road, in Arlington Heights, as a substitute for Type 29 Home about which there has recently been such a vigorous protest.

Accompanying the sketches was a plat of the subdivision showing the lot numbers and indicating on which lots Type 30 Home and its variations would be erected in place of the former Type 29.

The property owners were also informed that in connection with Mr. Besinger's proposal to substitute Type 30 Home for Type 29 Home, Mr. Besinger proposes to give to the community a letter in which he will agree, if permitted to erect Type 29 and Type 30 Homes on the lots covered by Permits 2509 to 2606, as amended, to construct homes on the remaining lots in the subdivision controlled by him in that area bounded on the north by Grove street, on the south by Rockwell street, on the east by Lincoln Lane, including those lots facing west on Lincoln Lane, and on the west by Pine street, including those lots facing east on Pine street, which would sell for not less than $20,000.

No detailed plans for Type 30 Home accompanied the sketches so that the property owners were without means to determine whether or not Type 30 Home complied with the recently enacted Building Code of Arlington Heights.

The property owners were uniformly dissatisfied with the character of the materials to be used in the exterior walls of Type 30 Home, but otherwise considered the home pictured in Type 30 sketches to be a decided improvement over Type 29 in architectural appearance and less objectionable from the standpoint of its detrimental effect on the value of the surrounding homes.

Accordingly, the property owners, as a result of a vote among those present, agreed that the erection of Type 30 Home on the lots designated on the plat which accompanied the sketches would be acceptable, subject to the following conditions:

(1) That the plans for the home are in substantial compliance with the Building Code.

(2) That no variation is permitted from the proposed locations of Type 30 Home and Type 29 Home indicated on the plat which accompanied Type 30 sketches; and

(3) That the builder, Leonard W. Besinger & Associates, Inc., enter into a written agreement not to erect homes on the interior lots in the subdivision hereinafter referred to now under their control to sell for less than $20,000.

The property owners present at the meeting desired me to express the opinion, shared by all of them:

That the compromise hereinabove proposed, while acceptable, less than to be desired. The property owners feel that the casual manner in which the Building Commissioner and the Building Committee examined the Builder's plans and issued Permits 2509 to 2606, evidenced indifference to the welfare of the Community and disregard of the duties of the respective public officials concerned. The compromise is, therefore, accepted reluctantly with the knowledge of the fact that the bargaining position of the Village in dealing with this Builder was lost through the improvident issuance of those permits without thorough study.

The property owners asked me to express their gratitude to the Village Board for convening a special meeting to hear their petition presented on February 2, 1950 and for the consideration given to the protest contained in that petition. The property owners, however, wish it to be understood that the response of the Board to their petition in no way lessens the seriousness of the hasty and ill-considered action which gave occasion for the protest.

It is hoped that remedial steps will be undertaken to prevent a recurrence of such an incident in the future.

Wm. S. Hough,
Vice President,
Scarsdale Property
Owners Association.

VETS OR GUINEA PIGS

This is the fourth of a series of articles by the American Legion regarding the Hoover Commission's recommendations about the Veterans Administration.

The present Administration hospitals have difficulty in providing beds for all veterans among the nation's 19,000,000 in need of hospitalization. The last VA report showed 19,717 veterans on the waiting list unable to get a hospital bed. Today the competition for sufficient VA beds is often a trial for sick veterans unable to afford private hospital treatment.

The Hoover Commission proposes to take away the exclusive right of veterans to their hospital facilities by merging the VA hospital and medical service with the Army and Navy hospitals and the U. S. Public Health Service in a gigantic new federal agency to be known as the United Medical Administration. Under the proposed UMA set-up, the American veteran would have to compete for hospital beds with the Merchant Mariner, the civil employee and the personnel of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps and their dependents. The veteran is in overwhelming majority. There are 19,000,000 of him. Yet he would not have his exclusive hospital facilities.

Under the Hoover Commission plan, a disabled or sick veteran requiring hospital treatment would have to go to the VA and make application. The VA, no longer having hospitals and doctors of its own, would send him to the United Medical Administration, thus ending "one stop" service. There he would be examined to determine whether need for hospitalization was indicated. All his records, of course, would be back at the VA.

If the UMA finds the veteran should be hospitalized, his admission to a hospital would then be contingent upon availability of beds not occupied by non-veterans. The American Legion feels this whole Hoover Plan of dealing with the veteran needing hospital care is the entering wedge to divorce the American veteran from his identity as a veteran. He would go back to being a serial number again as he was in time of war.

Now how will it affect you and me as a taxpayer? Setting up of such a colossal new federal agency as the proposed United Medical Administration would involve inevitably the creation of thousands of new jobs. It would mean the training of many inexperienced new officials, a costly operation in time and money. It would involve many duplicating functions and still worse, many specialized functions — one special system for each of numerous classes of patients.

Next article will discuss the jokers involved in transferring hospital construction to the Department of the Interior.

CROP AIDS EUROPE

As we approach the close of the Illinois 1949 CROP campaign, in behalf of the State CROP Committee, I wish to express our appreciation for the publicity you have carried in your paper to promote the work of CROP during the past year.

A total of thirty actual carloads of commodities of corn, soybeans, and milk, have been shipped from Illinois counties this fall, and cash contributions equivalent to sixty cars have been contributed, making our Illinois Abraham Lincoln Friendship Food Train of ninety cars with a cash value of approximately $180,000.00. Illinois ranks high among the thirty-six states participating in the CROP program for overseas relief. We shall be getting out a report soon showing county-by-county giving, and from time to time, we shall be sending you news releases of CROP activities.

We thank you for your courtesy and cooperation in helping to keep people informed of the work of the Christian Rural Overseas Program in alleviating hunger around the world. We look forward with pleasure to your assistance again as we carry on our 1950 program.

Mrs. Herbert W. Crowe
Illinois CROP Director.

PALATINE CONGESTION

We have a congestion problem in Palatine, affecting four schools, six churches, a park and a possible library, all within eight blocks along Wood street. Here is my five point solution:

1—Wood st. from Hicks rd. to Plum Grove to be widened on each side of pavement by removing curbs 3 or 5 ft. to north or south.

2—Turn Wood st. into a boulevard, between the 2 points, and rename it Boulevard.

3—Turn it over to the park commissioner.

4—Widen the west end of Wood st. to comply with Boulevard.

5—The Public Library should be placed at the S. W. corner of Wood and Plum Grove. Setting back the building from both streets with shrubs and lawn to parkway to give it a round corner effect.

OUT IN OREGON

I arrived out here January 5 and like the country. This is timber country. Just saw a big Douglas fir log 106" in diameter, 18 feet long, which contained 9638 board feet of lumber, enough for a five room frame house.

We live about 35 miles south-east of Portland.

I have been a subscriber to the Herald for 20 years, and miss it. How about a subscription?

212 NORTH DUNTON TEL. 338 ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Dear Jane:

"This is the land where bigotry must face
Almighty winds that cleanse the continent;
Here latitude is more than measured space
And longitude is where an eagle went.
As great men come from great emergency,
So mountains speak of stature for a man,
And sweeping plains extended endlessly
Stand for the heart of an American.

Within this country there is ample room,
As strong men learn to look within their minds,
For all the faith of all mankind to bloom.
In altar lights and incense one man finds
His hope; another man (the surer one)
Will walk through wheatfields golden in the sun."

These words of Ellen Denby are appropriate ones to read over as we begin National Brotherhood Week.

It is a pity, isn't it, that one week out of the year is about all many of us give to thoughts and exercises of brotherhood? Actually, how many people do you know who live as if they believed in a brotherhood of love and understanding? Of course we say we do, but give us an opportunity to prove it factually and see how quickly we back down.

There is a simple three-letter word "but" which is forever entering into our conversations in this matter, that makes the difference. "Yes, of course, we could adopt a child, but, well, I couldn't bear the thought of not knowing about its parentage." "Yes, he seems to be a charming, intelligent person, but you know he does belong to that queer group of people who call themselves, Bahais, or something like that!" How many times have you heard your dear friends remark: "You can't trust a Jew; they'll steal the shirt off your back every time." This statement has always struck me as being incongruous, to say the least, coming from so-called Christians. Christ, who was crowned King of the Jews, gave us the beautiful story of the Good Samaritan, a perfect example of true brotherhood. And he gave us the Sermon on the Mount.

It is tragic that we must reach down into the depths of great sorrow, before we can become fully aware of the meaning of brotherhood.

In times of want, plague, war and death, we see stirring examples of love for our fellow-men. One example, I think of at the moment, is the picture of the chaplains of Jewish, Protestant and Catholic faiths aboard ship during the last war, who gave up their life belts to others, put their arms around one another, and in unison prayed together at the ending of their lives.

It is ironic that so devastating a thing as war can also be the means of uniting peoples of all creeds and colors. It is in times of disaster that people band together to help one another. We see this when we experience fires, floods and storms in our own communities.

Perhaps one short week devoted to thoughts and acts of brotherly love isn't very much, but at least it is a step in the right direction. Who knows, but perhaps it will spread until someday we shall have International Brotherhood Week. Think of the possibilities of that!

"The love of beauty is not a joy apart;

It finds reflection deep within each heart.

The common man to common-place may daily rise

Yet, good rests within, for deep it lies

Casting upon an ordinary scene

Quiet abiding peace, a serene Acknowledgement of spiritual glory.

May the world be swift to recognize

This divine instinct in a brother's eyes." Anonymous.

Until next week,
With love, Mary.

Bits o' business

America's hens are laying like crazy. As far as the government is concerned, they're producing eggs a whole lot too fast for comfort. Uncle Sam already has enough dried eggs in storage to give a dozen and a half to every man, woman, and child in the country—and he's got to keep on buying more. Apparently high prices aren't making Americans reduce their diets. With retail food costs still 107 per cent above 1939 levels, people continue to eat more meat, vegetables, and fruit; meat consumed per capita, for example, is now 148 pounds, compared with 126 in 1935-39. Unemployment is on the increase. Today's jobless total (about four and a half million) is up 1,350,000 from a year ago. Chain and mail order store sales last month dropped 3 1/2 per cent from January, 1949. Biggest sales continued to be racked up by Sears, Roebuck in the mail order field, with Montgomery Ward still running in second place. The leader among variety stores: Woolworth.

Tales of the street

bright sun shining on the deep blue waters of the Indian river and a tempting seat located beneath a spreading palm tree.

Ed and Wanda Haseman send along a card showing a branch of an orange tree loaded with both fruit and blossoms and the word that they are having a grand vacation, only Ed adds the nostalgic touch that he misses those coffee hours with the boys.

Helen and Amanda Schoppe send word from St. Petersburg about playing pinocle in the back yard with the temperature at 80 degrees and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lalonde and Mr. and Mrs. A. Cleone, who left in the middle of the ice storm, were probably glad to get headed out of this icy country just when they did.

The Schoppes sent word from Miami that it was hard to get reservations to get back home, that the only thing available was chair car seats, all pullman space being reserved clear through March.

Maybe the folks who drove their cars down were lucky, they can at least start home when they want to.

Highway commissioner, Ray Holtzee is in this class. Ray and the family are leisurely touring Florida and taking in the sights. The southern folks got a little taste of our cool weather last week end when the temperature dropped to around 40 degrees, but they didn't have our ice coating to contend with and could look at orange blossoms instead of glittering ice crystals.

GETS LETTER

Glen Gallup, Palatine's dry land "old salt," who sent the Navy a design as to how to float the "Mo," received a nice letter the other day from the Navy thanking him for his interest and sending him a design as to how the ship was eventually floated.

The general idea of Glen's scheme and the Navy's weren't far apart and the Navy was very appreciative of Glen's interest in their problem.

THE MAILMAN'S

Before long dogs will be on the run again. They will be gathering smells from each post and tree. They will run in packs across the neighbors' lawns. They will menace the safety of young and old. Later, they will ruin gardens and flower beds.

Dog catchers will catch a few of them, and they will have to spend a few days in the pound, but most of them will run free. Those who are arrested will be free after a few days when their fines are paid, and people have forgotten or take chances on freeing them to desecrate their neighbor's property again.

But people will have at least some measure of protection, for under the new law passed last year, a dog is considered vicious the first time he bites, and his owner immediately liable for damages.

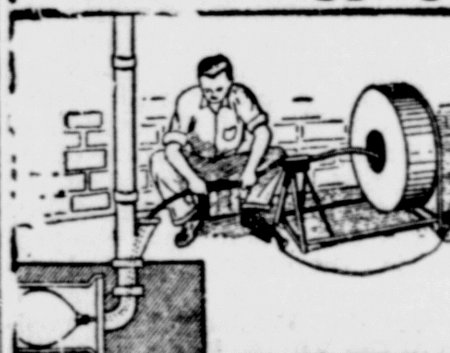

Letter carriers have little trouble collecting for damages to uniforms and personal injury these days. No matter what the circumstances connected with the dog's attack are, it is always the owner's fault. To him is delegated the task of keeping the dog out of mischief, and the only time the dog is excused for biting is when he is protecting the person or the property of his owner from persons bent on doing malicious injury.

A dog is man's best friend. When I was a kid, I had a dog named Jess in whom I could confide all of my troubles. She used to lick the tears from my eyes, to whine and rub against me in showing her sympathy. I loved her as much as I loved anyone, and when she died, my heart was broken for weeks.

And just because a dog is a loving and affectionate friend and protector, an owner should do all in his power to protect him from trouble. If a dog reaches the dog pond, the firing squad or the dissecting table in some university or scientific laboratory, it is the owner's fault and his alone. So hang on to Fido, folks, if you love him! Keep him on a leash, in the house, or when he is in the Percy Wilson Mortgage and Finance Corporation announces the election of additional officers. Theodore M. Wilson, who has been handling the corporation's new loan accounts for the North Shore, and Robert H. Wilson, both sons of Percy Wilson, were elected Vice Presidents. Harold H. Williams was appointed Assistant Secretary. Other officers who were re-elected by the Board following the annual meeting of the stockholders held in the offices of the corporation at 134 North LaSalle st., are: Percy Wilson, Chairman of the Board; Arthur T. Scheumann, Vice Chairman; Delmar R. Beaumont, President; Charles C. Barrett, Executive Vice President; and Richard E. Delaney, Secretary-Treasurer.

In commenting on the prospects for the ensuing year, Mr. Beaumont stated that the outlook for financing in the real estate mortgage field throughout the present year appeared much better than did the outlook for 1949 at this time last year. "Notwithstanding," said Mr. Beaumont, "actually proved to be the most successful in the history of the firm."

"THE DOLLAR volume of real estate financing in 1950 should exceed 1949," said Mr. Beaumont, "because funds available in this field of financing are plentiful and interest rates are consequently not rising although demand for funds is being widened by new construction in more diversified fields than at any time since the 'twenties'. Many developments of commercial and retail store properties, especially for the outlying areas are now on architects' drafting boards. "Rebirth of apartment building construction is following a pattern of larger buildings containing more living units each than was the general rule in the 1920's. A greater demand from individual families seeking to build homes during 1950, as well as continued demand from merchandising builders of mass housing projects in the low priced field appears noticeable.

"With the impact of the huge government building program of public housing and slum clearance projects competing for men and material soon to be felt," continued Mr. Beaumont, "The only element of construction costs that is not likely to increase will be the present low cost of liberal long term mortgage money."

Primary to have 9,424 precincts in April

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett today announced the total number of precincts in the state for the primary election of April 11 will be 9,424. This figure represents an increase of 193 precincts since the general election of November, 1948.

The counties showing increases are: Cook, 204; DuPage, 11; Kane, 1; Knox, 2; LaSalle, 1; McHenry, 2; Sangamon, 11; Tazewell, 2; Winnebago, 8.

Proble of cowardice treated in French novel

A short novel The Witness has been translated from the French, enabling us to judge the work of a promising young Frenchman, Jean Bloch-Michel. I read it while a hospital waiting room chair was prodding my back to an unaccustomed vertical position, yet two hours literally dissolved.

The "I" of the story, who remains nameless throughout because he has grown to hate his name, is writing to an acquaintance to unburden his mind of its tortuous self-interrogations. It is the eve of some momentous personal calamity which does not become clear until the last sentence. He keeps a sustained mood, freeing himself of the disturbing details of his life like a penitent in the confessional.

The story, which contains action enough for a long involved tale, has been pointed into an intense self-revelatory 170 pages. It personally involves you, the reader, as if the writer sat down across from you at some public place and started telling the story of his life. You sit there, enthralled, as the details of another man's existence are revealed.

His problem is the responsibility which love imposes. Has he been a coward in saving his own life when those he loved could not be saved? Has he a right to any part of human interdependence when he turns an indifferent back to another's inevitable suffering? His was a solitary existence, yet there were two people whom he loved, his brother Michel and his wife Claude.

In simple penetrating sentences he carries the reader swiftly and irretrievably to the final pages.

34 grade separations on Edens expressway are now completed

The Cook County highway department announced Thursday that all but one of the 34 grade separations on the Edens expressway have been completed. Bids are being received now. Chief engineer, William J. Mortimer, said, on the grade separation at the North Shore railroad tracks and Simpson st. in Skokie. He said that the highway department expected to get all work, drainage, grading, and paving, on the whole of the 14 1/2 mile route started by the end of the year.

The Congress street expressway and the Northwest expressway are just getting under way and won't be complete for ten years Mortimer said. Both are in the very slowest stage—that in which the right-of-way is acquired, he said. The length of negotiations with owners of property and court actions, is often very extended. Estimated cost of the 19 1/2 mile Congress st. route is 60 million dollars and for the Northwest expressway, extending 22 1/2 miles, 74 million dollars.

ion enough for a long involved tale, has been pointed into an intense self-revelatory 170 pages. It personally involves you, the reader, as if the writer sat down across from you at some public place and started telling the story of his life. You sit there, enthralled, as the details of another man's existence are revealed.

His problem is the responsibility which love imposes. Has he been a coward in saving his own life when those he loved could not be saved? Has he a right to any part of human interdependence when he turns an indifferent back to another's inevitable suffering? His was a solitary existence, yet there were two people whom he loved, his brother Michel and his wife Claude.

In simple penetrating sentences he carries the reader swiftly and irretrievably to the final pages.

Vitamins needed in your drylot swine rations

It isn't half so important for you to know the names of all the vitamins as it is to get them in your drylot swine rations.

Dr. S. W. Terrill, assistant professor of animal science at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that lots of research has been carried on lately dealing with this problem of supplying enough of the right vitamins.

Experiments with gilts and sows during gestation and lactation have shown that this is a critical period nutritionally. Likewise, the drylot feeding of young pigs up to a weight of 75 pounds is a critical period. From there to market weight is considered not so critical.

Dr. Terrill points out that drylot rations are apt to be low in some of the essential vitamins. But you can provide them easily by a wise choice of feeds which you can get from plant, fish, milk and animal sources.

WHAT THIS MEANS is that sows during pregnancy and lactation, and pigs up to 75 pounds, should get the right amount of vitamin-protein-mineral concentrate along with their regular grain feed. High-quality legume hay or meal is an excellent source of the needed vitamins.

An example of a suitable drylot supplement for nursing sows or weaning pigs is 100 pounds of tankage or meat scraps, 100 pounds of soybean oil meal, 100 pounds of high-quality alfalfa hay or meal, three pounds of ground limestone, three pounds of steamed bone meal, and six pounds of iodized salt.

For bred gilts and sows an additional 50 pounds of alfalfa meal should replace an equal amount of soybean oil meal in this supplement.

Des Plaines may poll dogs on future habitat by post card

Mayor Kenneth G. Meyer of Des Plaines will bring up for consideration at the next council meeting the subject of making its dogs available for medical research. Mr. Meyer tells the Suburban Times that he has letters from Orphans of the Storm and from the American Medical Association asking for stray dogs. He says the decision is up to the aldermen.

In Park Ridge they decided upon a post card survey of all citizens before the decision was made. This poll resulted in a 3 to 1 vote for giving the dogs to medical research.

BULLDOG

The English Bulldog, noted for its gentle disposition, was first bred in England to fight or "bait" bulls. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, the bulldog bit into the bull's nose and usually held on until the bull was exhausted.

170.24 BUSHELS WINS 1949 CORN CROWN FOR ILLINOIS FARMER

Elizabeth, Illinois (Special)—The trophy, Carl Schnitzler, Jo Daviess County farmer (right), is receiving from DeKalb Sales Manager Russell Rasmussen indicates that he has just won the DeKalb Illinois State Corn Growing Championship for his remarkably high yield of 170.24 bushels per acre in the 1949 National DeKalb Hybrid Corn Growing Contest. Carl Schnitzler was one of 4,428 farmers from 23 states who entered this year's DeKalb Corn Growing Contest. The average yield per acre of these thousands of farmers was 101.52 bushels—more than double the U.S.D.A. estimated average yield for the entire United States. To make his high scoring corn yield in Illinois, Corn King Schnitzler Spring-plowed his black-loam selected 5-acre contest plot and check-row planted DeKalb Hybrid Seed Corn Variety, 403, about 38 inches between hills and rows.

LAW on the FARM

The criminal code and agriculture:

Moses, King Hammurabi, the Greeks, and the Romans all tried to formulate codes of law for the guidance of the people. Much of this law had to do with agriculture, because crops and livestock were important to all those nations. These early lawmakers did not make a clear-cut distinction between criminal wrongs and civil wrongs, so that severe punishments were inflicted for allowing animals to trespass, charging too much rent for farmland, beating another man's animals and for many similar violations of law.

In Illinois most of the rights between property owners and with regard to farm animals and livestock are civil or contractual in nature and do not involve criminal penalties. But there are some provisions in the Illinois Criminal Code which have to do with agriculture. Here are some acts which constitute misdemeanors:

1. Adulterating milk is punishable by a maximum fine of $100 and a maximum jail sentence of six months.
2. Keeping unhealthy cows to produce milk for sale, or knowingly feeding these cows feed which produces unwholesome milk, is punishable by a maximum fine of $200.
3. Selling "immature veal" as defined in the law carries a maximum fine of $50.
4. Willfully setting fire or permitting fire to spread to crops, fields, woods or grasslands involves a maximum penalty of $100 and a maximum jail sentence of six months. Negligently or carelessly causing a fire with a cigarette, match, or other burning article is punishable by a maximum fine of $100.
5. Bringing in the seeds of noxious weeds and permitting them to be disseminated is punishable by a maximum fine of $100.
6. A maximum fine of $200 may be imposed on anyone guilty of cruelty to animals as defined in the law. Among acts which constitute "cruelty" are overcrowding, cruelly working, overworking, cruelly beating, abandoning, cruelly killing.
7. It is unlawful to offer for sale any grain which has been fumigated or altered by any chemical or coloring process which affects the color, quality or germ of the grain. A maximum fine of $1,000 and jail sentence of three months may be imposed.
8. Altering or destroying the brand on an animal with intent to steal is punishable by a maximum fine of $1,000 and a jail sentence of one year. If the animal is worth more than $15, a maximum sentence of three years in the penitentiary may be imposed.
9. Knowingly and willfully permitting diseased animals to run at large is punishable by a fine of up to $100.
10. Trespassing on posted farm premises constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum fine of $50. If a trespasser takes fruit from an orchard,

Dry dairy cows deserve good care

Dry dairy cows, next to growing heifers, are probably the most neglected animals on the average farm, believes Dr. R. D. Hatch, University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine. Dairy cows deserve good care all the time, not just when they are in production. The kind of care cows get during the dry period helps to determine the amount of money they will earn for you after they freshen.

Dr. Hatch believes it's usually best to dry up a cow gradually. Ending a milking period puts a strain on the udder. If mastitis germs are present, the strain may cause them to set up a severe infection. Before a cow is removed from the milking line, check her carefully for signs of mastitis. A good time to have your veterinarian treat a cow is while she is dry.

It's a good idea to watch a cow's udder carefully after she is dry. If a quarter becomes inflamed with mastitis, have it treated or the infection may get steadily worse.

If a dry cow has mastitis and is not treated, infection may stay in her udder. This may show up or go unnoticed, though still causing damage. Then at calving time the germs are present to cause serious trouble in the congested udder. Dry cows should also be fed properly. Cows in good condition at calving time usually give far more milk than cows in poor condition. Good rations also help to build resistance to disease.

Here's where it pays to talk of the third party

When two people talk about a third party, it may lead to trouble. But one of the best things for any landlord and tenant to do is to get together and talk about the third party to their agreement—the farm. It may easily pay big dividends to both men.

Dr. H. C. M. Case, head of agricultural economics work at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says that you can make your farm earn more income by sound management. A college study of 240 north-central Illinois farms was made for the 10 years 1936-45. Originally all farms were about the same size and the same soil fertility.

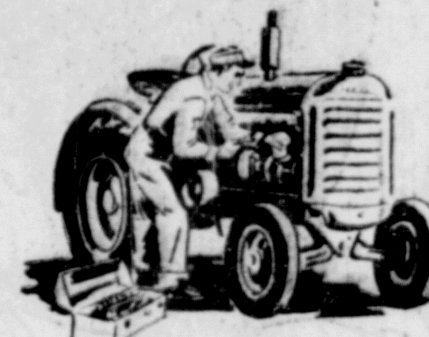

But the highest earning 24 farms averaged $6,300 more income each year than the 24 lowest earning farms. That's $63,000 in 10 years.

Think of what $63,000 extra would do for you in 10 years. It would help a tenant to buy his own farm, to educate his children, and to do countless other good things. It would give the landlord considerably more income. And it would help to improve the community for everyone and raise the level of rural living.

CASE POINTS out that the farm—the third party—has given more than its share during the war years. The farm is poorer than it was 10 years ago. Needed repairs have not been made on many farms. Now that fertilizer, tile, fencing, building material, and even trees and shrubs are more available than (Continued on page 25) during the war, don't begrudge the farm some of the profits.

In fact, many farms cannot regain their fertility unless you spend some doctor bills on them.

The encouraging thing is that most farm ills can be cured if you use the right medicine. And Case says that, when they are cured, all three parties profit—the tenant, the landlord, and the farm.

Piping in Home

There are more than 300 feet of concealed piping in the walls and under the floors of the average house. It pays to have this installed under the supervision of a plumbing contractor whose knowledge and skill will insure the durability and trouble-free operation of the installation.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. When a sudden death occurs in a family after wedding invitations have been mailed, should the wedding be postponed?

A. Not necessarily. However, the plans should be changed. Recall all invitations excepting those of the two immediate families, and have the wedding as quiet as possible.

Q. If a man and a woman are dining together in a restaurant and the tea is served in a pot, who pours it?

A. If the waiter does not pour for them, then the woman should attend to this rite.

Q. If a woman is standing directly in a man's way, must he tip his hat when he asks her permission to pass?

A. Yes, as she steps aside he should tip his hat and thank her.

Q. Is it all right to correct a person if he mispronounces your name?

A. If he does it only once, it would probably be better to ignore it. But if he persists in the mispronunciation, merely say, "My name is Gordon, not Gordan," but do so graciously, without showing resentment.

Q. Is it correct to eat cake at the table with the fingers?

A. Small cakes and slices of plain cake may be eaten with the fingers, but soft-frosted cake or French pastries require a fork.

Q. At what time should the ushers arrive for a church wedding?

Income tax hints -

Certain items of income are specifically exempted by federal laws and regulations and are not subject to Federal tax. Many of you will be interested in knowing what they are.

The so-called dividends which you receive on your mutual life insurance policy are not taxable income, but merely represent a reduction of the cost of your protection by the company, whether you accept the cash or allow the dividends to remain with the company to purchase additional insurance.

If your endowment policy has matured and the amount of money you receive is greater than the cost to you, you must report as taxable income the excess of the amount you receive over the cost. But, if you receive proceeds of a life insurance policy upon the death of an insured person, you do not receive this money as income.

The social security and old age benefits you receive are not taxable. Damages paid to you for personal injury are not taxable nor are the insurance benefits you receive when sick. Remember, that any hospitalization reimbursement or health and accident benefits you received must be deducted from the allowable medical bills.

Workmen's Compensation and Unemployment Compensation are not taxable. The interest you receive from municipal bonds or from county or state issues are also tax exempt, but remember that you can not deduct the interest you pay on money you borrow to buy such bonds.

Commissioned officers in the Armed Forces of the United States are no longer entitled to exclude $1,500.00 of their service pay from taxable income. The pay of enlisted men for 1949 is entirely taxable.

The benefits allowed for personal injuries or sickness which resulted from his or her service in the Armed Forces, whether or not during a war, are exempt from tax by a veteran.

The disability retirement pay is exempt to the veteran, but if he receives regular retirement pay, it is subject to tax.

Medical, dental expenses

Those items which qualify as medical and dental expenses in excess of 5% of the adjusted gross income which is shown on Line 6, Page 1, are deductible as itemized deductions on Page 2 of the return. To qualify as medical expenses such items must have been paid for yourself, your spouse or your qualified dependents when itemized deductions are used instead of the tax table or the standard deduction.

Listed below are payments which qualify as deductible medical expense:

Payments to physicians, surgeons, osteopaths, Christian Science practitioners, chiropractors, dentists, nurses and hospitals. Cost of eyeglasses, contact lenses and glass eyes. Cost of artificial teeth.

Cost of hearing aids. Expense of travel necessary to go to a specific doctor, hospital or sanitarium for treatment when ordered by your doctor. But the expenses of going away for a change of scene or rest, even if ordered by your doctor, are not deductible. Cost of ambulance service. Cost of medicines prescribed by your doctor. Cost of braces, artificial limbs, casts.

Premiums on health and accident insurance and hospital or medical insurance. (These may not be claimed as miscellaneous deductions on Page 3 of the return. They must exceed 5% of the adjusted gross income and are subject to the same limitations as medical expenses.)

To determine the amount of allowable medical expense, you deduct the amount of any reimbursement received from an insurance company or a hospitalization plan, from the total amount spent for medical care. From the net figure which results, you subtract 5% of the income shown on Line 6, Page 1 of white Form 1040. The balance represents the allowable medical expense.

Vets taking farm training must report earnings by March 1

Illinois veterans who are taking institutional on-farm training under GI Bill of Rights were warned by the Illinois Veterans Commission to make a report of their 1949 earnings by March 1, 1950 or face suspension of their subsistence. The reports must be made to the Veterans Administration so they can adjust each veteran's subsistence for the current year (1950). Reports should cover only the income from productive labor for the calendar year of 1949. They should be based upon farm accounting records kept by the veteran trainee as part of his course of instruction. Nearly 13,000 veterans are taking institutional on-farm training in Illinois and of this number 93 per cent are operating their own farms. While these reports must be made to the VA, service officers of the Illinois Veterans Commission can and will assist veterans in meeting the deadline by furnishing information or direct aid. IVC offices are located at 164 N. Marion, Oak Park; 213 Liberty building, Wheaton; 634 Davis, Evanston.

Winner of the Bell Timing Award Trophy as the fastest stock car tested as El Mirage Dry Lake, California, the Nash Ambassador, driven by an amateur driver, did the flying mile at 99.4 miles per hour.

This Nash Ambassador Engine does its OWN BOASTING!

Want to sample the finest thing in engines?

Drive the 1950 Nash Ambassador, and let it do its own boasting! If there's a better performer the records don't show it!

Yes—here is America's top high-compression engine (7.3 to 1 ratio) that uses regular gasoline. And it delivers up to 30% more miles to a gallon than other fine cars, by owner reports.

Here, too, is America's best aerodynamic design. Note the difference in wind-roar . . . in riding smoothness. Note the squeak-proof, rattle-proof Airflyte Construction.

It's the only fine car offering the Airliner Reclining Seat . . . Sky-Lounge spaciousness with even Twin Beds. And Hydra-Matic Drive is available with exclusive Selecto-Lift Starting.

The Nash Ambassador, even in Custom models, tailored to your order, costs as much as a thousand dollars less than the other three finest cars.
